FROM WASHINGTON.

DEATH OF HON. THOMAS H. BENTON.

Senator Wilson's Bill for a Magnetic Telegraph to Salt Lake—The Deficiency Bill—The Kansas Bill, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, April 11.

Hon. THOMAS H. BENTON died at 7½ o'clock on Saturday morning.

The bill of Senator WILSON, which is set down for consideration to-morrow, authorizes the Secretary of War to contract for the construction of a telegraph from a point in Missouri to the Army at Salt Lake. A company, headed by Mr. O'REILLY, stands ready to contract for building the line in one hundred days, at a cost of from $350,000 to $500,000—the wires to be laid under ground.

An effort will be made by Mr. PUGH, seconded by Messrs. TOOMBS and HUNTER, to postpone this and all other business for the Deficiency bill. PUGH hopes to get it through on Tuesday or Wednesday. Meantime, the President will take no action towards the calling out of volunteers until after its passage.

No positive action will be taken on the Kansas bill until the return of the Missouri delegation, who will go home with the remains of Col. BENTON.

The Senate Committee on Public Buildings have in contemplation a project for building a new Executive mansion somewhere a little out of town, and abandoning the present building to the State Department, retaining several rooms as an office for the President. O.

[FROM THE REPORTER FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Sunday, April 11.

The Union says that the interview between Colonel BENTON and the President on Friday night was protracted, and that the latter afterwards expressed exceeding gratification at his visit. Colonel BENTON spoke of his extreme solicitude for the condition of public affairs, and his painful sense of the imminent dangers which threaten the country, and exhorted the President to rely upon the Divine support and guidance, and not upon that of men, who would deceive him.

The Secretary of the Treasury has invited proposals, till May 10, for the issue of any portion, or the whole of $5,000,000 in Treasury notes in exchange for gold.

Messrs. POWELL and MCCULLOUGH, the Peace Commissioners to Utah, leave Washington to-morrow.

The remains of Colonel BENTON go West to-morrow afternoon, via the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to Wheeling.

Congress will adjourn on Monday, to attend the funeral of Col. BENTON.

There will be no acceptance of volunteers by the President until after the passage of the Deficiency bill through the Senate.

Senator DAVIS is re arded as convalescent.

The Public Printing Plunder—A Government Printing-Office—Bill of Senator Johnson—A Great Leak to be Stopped—Important Proposition of Senator Douglas with reference to the Territories—Wagon Road in New-Mexico.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 9, 1858.

The forthcoming report from the Committee of the House appointed early in the session to investigate the cost of the public printing, the profits of the printers, &c.,—a Committee most imperatively called for by the numerous startling stories of corruption existing in this department of governmental expenditure,—will exhibit a state of facts calculated to astonish the denizens of the "rural districts," at the same time that it cannot fail to thoroughly awaken Congress to the necessity of a prompt and radical reform in that quarter. The Committee, of which Hon. GEORGE TAYLOR, of your City, has been one of the most active and efficient members, have conducted the investigation with a commendable degree of industry and research, and their report will embrace all the facts capable of illustrating the subject, by showing the amount which has hitherto been paid for the printing, binding and engraving of Congress and the Departments and the enormous amount of profits which have been made by those executing the work, and which, by exciting the cupidity, and offering a premium to the dishonesty of speculators, lobby agents and intriguing politicians, have turned the whole thing into a perfect jungle of corruption, wherein the money of the Government has been most scandalously sunk and squandered. The simple fact that Mr. WENDELL, who executes most of the public printing at second-hand, is able to pay $20,000 a month to the various parties who stand responsible for its execution to the Government, and makes his own profit out of it besides—an almost incredible fact, but one stated to me by "one having authority"—is enough to explain and accredit all the tales of bargain, intrigue and corruption which have reached the public ear. Two hundred and forty thousand dollars a year goes as clear profit to the parties who have secured the fat jobs of doing the Government printing and binding, and have nothing to do but pocket the money. No wonder that a swarm of adventurers and peculators should be tempted here to fatten on such spoils!

The House Committee have concluded that if such are the profits to private parties, the Government can save money, and prevent a good deal of corruption by doing the work itself. In fact, it is estimated that in the very first year of the establishment of a Government printing office, enough will be saved from one branch of this expenditure to pay for the first cost of the whole establishment. The Committee believe that upon all branches of it,—the printing, binding, engraving and lithographing of the Government,—they will effect a saving of $500,000 a year!—an achievement which, if anywhere near correctly estimated, will be one of the greatest in the history of modern governments, and ought to give the members of the Committee a sort of honorable exemption from labor for the rest of their term.

The Committee will, as I understand it, report the following plan, drawn by Mr. TAYLOR, and here described only in brief: A bureau to be organized, at the head of which shall be a Commissioner of Public Printing, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior. A building to be erected for the purposes of this bureau, and type, presses, and every material for doing the work required, supplied. Workmen to be employed by the piece in the printing department, at the rates established by the Typographical Society of the District of Columbia. Engravers, lithographers, and binders to be employed at rates established, and facilities provided for all such work. The bill then proposes to require that all the printing, binding and engraving of Congress, of the Departments, and in short of every branch of the Government, shall be executed by this bureau, except that the engraving may, if so determined by the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner, be given out by contract. Such are the leading features of this admirable and simple plan for getting rid of all the corrupt machinery of the present totally corrupt and wasteful system, where Congress has to look after a score of contractors, and in effect to be plundered by them all. It may, of course, be expected to encounter the active and untiring hostility of all those—and their name is legion—who make their extensive profits out of the present arrangement. The printer of the House, Mr. STEEDMAN, with his partner, Mr. BANKS, and the parties, if any, interested with them, Major HARRIS, late of the Union, printer of the Senate, Messrs. BOTELER & PETTIBONE, binders of that body, and other parties, with their friends, will, of course, bring all their friends to defeat the projet of the Committee; and against such a combination of interests, ramifying through Congress itself in every direction, it is hard to say what chance of success it has. It will require all the energy, tact and good management which the members of the Committee can put forth to carry their excellent reform; but I hope that they will have essential aid from the press in every section of the country, and from every person desirous of simplifying and economizing the operations of the Government. The Committee consist of Messrs. WILLIAM SMITH, of Va.; G. A. GROW, of Penn.; GEORGE TAYLOR, of New York; MATTHIAS H. NICHOLS, of Ohio; SMITH, of Tenn.; MORSE, of Me.; and DOWDELL, of Ala.; a combination possessing a large amount of ability, parliamentary experience, and knowledge of the subject they have undertaken, and one, if united, which will be hard to beat.

The fight on the part of those interested in the present system will doubtless be to carry the bill proposed by Mr. JOHNSON, of Arkansas, in the Senate. Mr. JOHNSON seems conscious of the necessity of a reform, and desirous of effecting it, and his bill throws around the system as it now exists, a vast number of additional guaranties, but it retains, and even increases all the cumbrous machinery which has heretofore been so dreadfully perferted, and in spite of all contrivances short of total eradication, doubtless will be so hereafter. Mr. JOHNSON'S bill would be a good one under ordinary circumstances, but it does not answer the emergency, and it should not be supported by friends of a thorough reform.

Senator DOUGLAS has reported from the Committee on Territories his bill, in the nature of a substitute, for the bill organizing the Territory of Arizona. It provides for the division of New-Mexico into three judicial districts, describing their boundaries, the third embracing the Territory known as the Gadsden purchase, to which a judge is assigned, for dividing the same in counties, for election of county officers, and for designation of plans for holding courts by the Governor. It authorizes the taking of a census for the whole Territory, and for the apportionment according to population of thirteen councilmen and thirty-nine representative to the several counties. It recognizes as citizens all persons adopted as such by the treaty acquiring the country, except the Pueblas and other Indians. The fourth, however, is the most important section, inasmuch as it is made applicable to all the Territories of the United States except Utah, and establishes as a universal rule, hereafter to be observed in the formation of a State Government, that the constitution thereof shall be first submitted to a vote of the people, and accepted by a majority of them, before it can be submitted to Congress. This, in view of the contest over the constitution of Kansas, is a most important proposition, and one which will be likely to excite an extended discussion. It contains a doctrine which a large portion of the South deny, and may be supposed to have an important and intentional bearing upon the future status of Arizona, and all other territory now in possession of, or which may be acquired by, the United States. I think the section is of interest enough to give in full, as follows:

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That whenever said Territories shall contain sufficient population to constitute a State, to wit: The number required by the then ratio of representation for a member of Congress, to be ascertained by a census taken in pursuance of law, the legislature of said Territory may proceed to call a Convention for the purpose of forming a constitution of State government, which constitution shall be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection, and if ratified by a majority of the legal voters in the limits of the proposed State, but not otherwise, may be sent to Congress in the form of an application for admission into the Union on an equal footing with the other States, with such boundaries as Congress shall prescribe. This section shall be, and is hereby, incorporated into and made a part of the organic law of each of the Territories of the United States, except the Territory of Utah."

The new emigrant wagon-road in New-Mexico, proposed by Mr. OTERO, is intended to start from Albuquerque, run south of Fort Defiance, and strike the Colorado on the thirty-fifth parallel, near Mojave villages. The route has been traversed by Lieutenants BEALE, AUBREY and others, and will not, it is said by Mr. OTERO, involve a great expense. Mr. SCOTT, of California, will probably make the proposition that the road shall be carried onwards from the Colorado to San Francisco. O.

FASHIONABLE INTELLIGENCE.

Grand Fancy Ball at Mrs. Senator Gwin's Residence in Washington.

From the Washington States.

On Thursday evening Mrs. GWIN received her guests with a courteous affability that set them at ease at once, and removed the embarrassment naturally attendant on entering lighted saloons in fancy dress. Her dress was that of a Lady of the Court of Louis Quatorze, composed of a skirt of white moire antique, trimmed with flounces of pointe d'aquille; boddice of the dress trimmed with lace to match flounces; train of cherry satin, trimmed with a ruche of white satin; coiffure of time of Louis XIV., which added to the fine effect of the costume, so admirably adapted to the fine figure of the lady-like hostess.

Miss GWIN, who aided in "doing the honors," looked charmingly in the costume of a Greek Girl. White satin skirt and full white satin pantaletts; boots of silver and blue satin. Over the white satin skirt, which is trimmed with strips of cherry satin, was a skirt of tulle trimmed with silver. Tunic and boddice of blue satin, trimmed with silver and white satin. Necklace of pearls. Hair plated with pearls, and a Greek cap of blue and white satin trimmed with silver and two silver tassels. It was a bewitching costume, and charmingly worn.

Miss Carrie Gwin was dressed as a Page; white satin trowsers, full to the knee; long stockings of silk; boots of black; coat of maroon velvet, trimmed with gold; cap of velvet and gold with white plumes.

A friend wore the costume of an Italian Peasant; skirt and boots of blue silk; boddice of maroon velvet, trimmed with pink ribbon; chemisette of white muslin, with full sleeves; head-dress, the flat, square folded, muslin frill, trimmed with lace, put on with silver pins; necklace and cross of Roman pearl; apron trimmed with pink and blue ribbon.

Senator Gwin, in citizen's dress, was ubiquitous and unceasing in his endeavors to promote the enjoyment and amusement of his guests, exhibiting a genuine California hospitality.

PRIVILIGED GUESTS.

The President, Secretaries Cobb and Thompson, Assistant-Secretary Clayton, Senators Douglas, Hammond, Hale, Hunter, Mason, Pugh, Allen, Crittenden, King, Seward, and other distinguished personages, attended in citizen's dress, by permission. Otherwise, fancy costume was obligatory. The fact that almost every one was more or less disguised, added to the brillancy of the scene and to the general enjoyment.

CHARACTERS AND COSTUMES.

Miss Anderson, of New-York, had alphabetically the precedence, and looked charmingly as a Flower Girl, distributing her smiles and her floral treasures.

Mr. Arnold, of California, Joseph Surface.

Mr. J. T. Adams, Washington, Count Wintersen.

Mrs. Bowlin, of St. Louis, Spanish Duchess, an effective and brilliant costume.

> "His presence engenders love
> Amongst his subjects and his royal friends."

Mr. Bayley was dressed as a Yankee, in ra'al Down-East style, and kept a whittlin' just as tho' he was to hum.

Mrs. Philip Clayton, of Georgia, wore the ball-dress of a Lady of the Republican Court, at the time when President Washington's "drawing-rooms" were ceremonious affairs. It was a becoming dress, and was one of those most admired—perhaps on account of the affability of the wearer.

Two vests—outer one white, under one red. White cravat with lace, also lace at the wristbands. White satin breeches, with red bands at the knee, white stockings, and black pumps. If all those beaux who live in the twentieth century look as well as did the honorable and gallant member from North Carolina, the appearance of ballrooms will be improved.

Miss Fanny English, of Georgetown, represented the American Flag, and sported the "Red, White and Blue" with grace and effect.

Col. Benton's Last Request.

C STREET, WASHINGTON, April 8, 1858.

To Samuel Houston, Esq., Senator in Congress from the State of Texas, and George W. Jones, Esq., Representative in Congress from Tennessee:

To you, as old Tennessee friends, I address myself to say, that in the event of my death here, I desire that there shall not be any notice taken of it in Congress. There is no rule of either House that will authorize the announcement of my death, and if there were such a rule, I should not wish it to be applied in my case as being contrary to my feelings and convictions long entertained, as shown in a note to a speech of Mr. RANDOLPH on the occasion of the death of Mr. DAVID WALKER, published in the Abridgement of Debates, volume vi., page 566. The request of Mr WALKER there recorded, and the remarks of Mr. RANDOLPH, express entirely my sentiments and convictions. Should, therefore, any of my kind friends, in either House, make it necessary to do so, I entrust to you to make known, by means of this note, my express wish and desire that the event remain unnoticed in Congress.

Your old Tennessee friend,
THOMAS H. BENTON.

CAPTURE OF THE CITY OF GUADALAJARA BY GEN. OSOLLO—THE JUAREZ GOVERNMENT TAKEN PRISONERS.

NEW-ORLEANS, Saturday, April 10.

The steamship Tennessee, from Vera Cruz, 7th inst., is coming up the river.

She brings intelligence of the highest importance from Mexico.

General OSOLLO, acting in behalf of the Zuloago Government, had taken the City of Guadalajara, capturing the entire Government of JUAREZ.

JUAREZ and his officers were permitted to leave the country.

OSOLLO was on his way to the City of Mexico, and would probably be declared President of the Republic.

Vera Cruz still holds out for the JUAREZ or Constitutionalist party.

The city of Tampico was besieged by Gen. GARZA.

KANSAS AFFAIRS.

Closing Proceedings of the Convention—What They Have Done—Public Sentiment, &c.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

LAWRENCE, Saturday, April 3, 1858.

The Constitutional Convention at Leavenworth probably adjourned yesterday, or this morning, as the work was nearly completed on Thursday, the 1st, except enrolling and signing. Two or three test votes were to be taken however, yesterday, when upon the final passage, the result of which I have not yet learned. One upon the black law clause, another upon the exemption clause, by which 160 acres of land, regardless of price, or $2,000 worth of city property, are exempt from legal process. It is hoped this has been modified, so that a limited valuation, rather than areas, will be recognized. It was the prevalent opinion, yesterday, that the black-law provision would be defeated.

A table, giving the ages, places of birth, politics &c., of all the members, has been prepared, from which I obtain the following: Whole number present 82; 6 were born in Indiana; 6 in Maine; 3 in Vermont; 1 in Tennessee; 8 in Pennsylvania; 4 in New-Jersey; 1 in District of Columbia; 1 in Wisconsin; 14 in New-York; 20 in Ohio; 1 in Virginia; 2 in Maryland; 5 in Kentucky; 2 in Massachusetts; 2 in Illinois; 2 in New-Hampshire; 1 in North Carolina; 1 in Prussia; 2 in Scotland; 61 are married, and 21 single.

Their former politics are given: 28 Whigs; 24 Democrats; 10 Republicans; 2 Abolitionists; 1 Radical; 4 Independents; and 5 Free-Soil.

Present politics: 58 Free-State; 22 Republicans 1 Democrat; 1 N. A. Whig.

Occupations: 44 farmers; 17 lawyers; 4 merchants; 1 machinist; 1 cooper; 1 mechanic; 4 physicians; 2 editors; 1 shoemaker; 1 clergyman; 2 printers; 1 architect; 1 real estate agent; 1 lumberman.

The youngest member is P. B. PLUMB, editor of the Kansas News, aged 23. The oldest member is HENRY HARVEY, for many years the agent at the Friends' Mission, aged 61 years.

An immense mass meeting was held on Thursday evening in front of the Planters' House, in Leavenworth, which continued until after midnight. Mr JOHNSON, of Leavenworth, presided. The object of the meeting, as I have before told you, was to consult upon the duty of the people of Kansas, in case the Lecompton swindle passes Congress. Among the speakers were General LANE, Judge CONWAY, Mr. MEDILL, of the Chicago Tribune; Mr. DELANG, of New-Haven, Connecticut; Messrs. THACHER, BARR, FOSTER and others. With one exception every speaker was in favor of utterly ignoring the Lecompton Government, and making the Leavenworth Constitution the only organic law of the land. The speeches were eloquent and earnest, fully adequate to both the theme and the occasion. It was strongly indicative of the change that follows our Kansas life to listen to the radical and even revolutionary sentiments that echoed upon the midnight air across the Missouri, to the opposite bank, where Freedom has been trampled under foot the last few years. Two years ago such language as every heart seemed to speak in that meeting would have cost nothing less than life.

The notorious Dr. STRINGFELLOW passed down the river yesterday, taking his last, lingering look of Kansas, bound for his former home in Virginia. He gives us over to abolitionism, and declares his intention to never return again to this field of his history. Thus one by one they leave us, and why should we surrender our inherent right to self-government in such an hour?

The District Court is now in session in Lecompton. Judge LECOMPTE presiding. This week over 150 cases have been dismissed from the docket without trial, when Free-State men have been indicted heretofore by their political enemies, and charged with all the higher crimes known to the laws, such as murder, arson, felony, robbery and the like. This is a chapter in itself. Only think of dismissing a case that has been in Court a year or more, when a man is charged with murder, and that charge has been sustained by the oath of no less than a dozen Missouri culprits. This shows that even LECOMPTE has opened his eyes to the fact that there is a North, and that it is time to repent his long catalogue of sins.

The Spring is forward. Peas, beets, cucumbers, &c., are up in our gardens, and large wheat fields are "waving in the wind." RANDOLPH.

Personal.

Gov. Thos. Ford, of Ohio, long known as a powerful political speaker, has been converted in the revival. On Wednesday last, he appeared at the Union prayer-meeting in Columbus, and made a statement which is reported as follows: He remarked that for long years, the world had been his master; for it he had lived; to it he had given his strength and heart. But now he had chosen another and a better master, the Lord Jesus Christ. He spoke with humility of his unworthiness, and ascribed his hope of salvation wholly to the grace of God. He said that when first he yielded his heart to Christ, he felt inclined to keep the matter to himself and the circle of his most intimate friends. But soon his conversion was published in the papers, and he then felt that he had notice served upon him, that, not only God's eye, but the eyes of the world were upon him; that it would be his duty in all his ways to exemplify the power and blessedness of the religion of the Gospel. He was determined henceforth to bear testimony for Christ, and live for his glory. Mr. Ford's manner was earnest, but subdued and humble; and his address brought tears to many eyes.

Mr. Layard is now traveling in India, and may be expected, on his return to Europe, to produce a work on the present mutinies. His intimate knowledge of Eastern languages, manners and customs renders him peculiarly fitted for such a duty. Writing to a friend from Hyderabad on the 5th of January, Mr. Layard says: "I have learned much during my journey, and hope to make a good use of what I have seen."

Five Governors of Connecticut, including the Hon. William A. Buckingham, (just elected,) have come from the little town of Lebanon, in that State. They range in succession as follows: Jonathan Trumbull, first; Jonathan Trumbull, second; Joseph Trumbull, Clark Bissell and William A. Buckingham.

General James B. Gardenhire, the Benton Attorney-General of Missouri, under General Price, was, last Monday, elected Mayor of Jefferson City. He is an Emancipationist.

A Chapter in the History of the Administration—From the Chronicles of Poor Bennett.

NO. I.—THE LECOMPTON BILL CERTAIN TO PASS IMMEDIATELY.

From the Herald, March 9.

It is now manifest that in Congress and throughout the country the Lecompton Constitution is gaining strength every day. All doubts of its success have vanished, and the only uncertainties upon the subject, are, first, the precise majority in each House in favor of the bill; secondly, the day of its passage in each House; and thirdly, the day of its transmission to the White House for the finishing signature of the President of the United States. The more this Kansas policy of the President has been discussed, the more it has commended itself to the public sentiment of the country, * * The most violent and active enemies of the President's policy are now beginning to concede that the Lecompton Constitution will pass both the Senate and the House by a larger majority than was at first anticipated by the most sanguine friends of the measure.

NO. II.—THE LECOMPTON CONSTITUTION NOT TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE POPULAR VOTE.

From the Herald, March 16.

The broad, clear and constitutional ground taken by Mr. BUCHANAN on this question must triumph. The Lecompton Convention, representing the sovereignty of the people of Kansas in the only mode known to our representative institutions, saw fit to submit the question of Slavery to the people, and the official proceedings of the Convention and the people of Kansas are now presented to Congress. The only questions for Congress to consider are: First, are the documents presented an official record of the proceedings of the Convention and people; and secondly, is the Constitution republican in form? To extend these inquiries into an analysis of the views of each individual in Kansas apart from the official returns, would be Congressional intervention of the worst character, and could lead to no result beyond a continued agitation of the subject for the benefit of political demagogues.

NO. III.—NO COMPROMISES OR CONCESSIONS WITH TRAITORS AND RENEGADES.

From the Herald, March 17.

But, whatever these mysterious South Americans may be driving at, the policy of the Administration is very clear. It is to push the Lecompton bill through the House without stopping anywhere to make petty compromises or concessions of peace to any clique or faction. Very true, the Lecompton Constitution is a myth or empty abstraction at the best,—but it cuts the Gordian knot of this Kansas agitation, and throws the whole issue of popular sovereignty back to the people, where it belongs. But, again, the Administration has staked its existence upon the Lecompton Constitution; and it is therefore the policy of the Administration Party in the House to admit of no trifling expedients or embarrassing devices in their action upon the bill. Better risk all the contingencies of a square defeat in a bold and open fight upon a square issue, than to stoop to the humiliation of concessions to faithless renegades and disorganizing factions.

NO. IV.—UPON SECOND THOUGHT IT IS BETTER TO "STOOP"—GRACEFUL AND DIGNIFIED RETREAT AND PLUNDER OF THE ENEMY'S BAGGAGE.

From the Herald, April 11.

According to our latest accounts from Washington we have every reason to anticipate, within a day or two, the final settlement of the Kansas question upon a compromise between the two Houses, under the auspices of the Administration.

The plan is to get up between the two Houses such a modification of the Crittenden-Montgomery bill that, instead of providing for the admission of the new State by the President in the event of the ratification of either the Lecompton or a new Constitution, the bill will provide for the submission of the ratified Constitution to Congress. * * *

We think, therefore, that a day or two in advance we may congratulate our conservative readers of all sections and parties upon the happy solution of this vexed question of "bleeding Kansas," and upon the exact policy indicated in the Kansas Administration and official views of Mr. Buchanan. He has said that it was his wish to have the Lecompton Constitution referred to the people, yea or nay, before the act of its submission to Congress; but, inasmuch as the Lecompton Convention possessed the discretion of submission or non-submission, he was compelled to accept their Constitution as delivered into his hands from the President of the Convention.

An act of Congress, then, referring the said Constitution back to the popular vote of Kansas, so far from being a defeat of the policy of Mr. BUCHANAN, will be the triumph of that policy. This triumph will involve a victory over the Anti-Slavery holy alliance of the North greater than anything that has been achieved over the sectional organization since the annexation of Texas.

The Balance Dock Monopoly.

REASONS WHY THE BILL TO LEGALIZE THE USE OF THE SLIPS BY BALANCE DOCKS SHOULD NOT BECOME A LAW.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

1. Because the measure is premature, on the ground that the decision of Judge ROOSEVELT has been appealed from by the defendants; the case being now on its way to the Court of Appeals.

2. Because it will put a stop to the issues pending between the Courts and the Floating Dock Companies.

3. Because it will locate all the Docks of these immense corporations in a single Ward; whereas, if they be allowed to mingle with the shipping, they ought to be distributed over the several Wards of the City; a result which the City authorities can have no power to attain, without an amendment to the Act of 1830, a measure which has been resolutely opposed by the advocates of the bill.

4. Because nearly all the wealthy and leading shipping merchants of the City—many of whom are stockholders in the docks—have remonstrated against its passage,—first, on the ground of its operation as a precedent to put a stop to judicial proceedings; and, secondly, because the present accommodations for the shipping are already lamentably deficient—so much so that vessels with the most valuable cargoes are often obliged to wait ten or twelve days for a berth.

5. Because it was clearly proved in Court that there are many places, both on the New-York and Long Island shores, where all the docks could be much more conveniently and advantageously located than where they now are, the question of removal being simply one of dollars and cents, and the parties abundantly able to provide for themselves, instead of seizing, as they now do, upon the most valuable portions of the water-front of the City.

6. Because the resistance of the Docks to legal decisions is confined chiefly to three or four wealthy persons of the neighborhood, who are interested in supplying them with copper and other materials.

7. Because the bill has not been in the hands of the "Committee on Commerce and Navigation," where it properly belonged, and where only it could have received the consideration which its importance demands; and because all discussion upon the merits was accidentally avoided, by its passing into the hands of the "Grinding Committee" as soon as it reached the "Committee of the Whole."

8. Because neither in London nor Liverpool, or in other large cities, are Docks for repairing vessels allowed to mingle with the shipping.

9. Judge ROOSEVELT's remark about "delaying his decision for a long time, to give the defendants a chance to ask for enlightened Legislative action on the general subject," could have no significance, after his decision was once given, except to serve as a reason for closing the door against them.

10. Because if a Balance Dock be a nuisance, as it unquestionably would be, at the foot of Wall-street, on the ground of its interference with the shipping, it would also be a nuisance where the Docks now are.

11. Because the bill is so ingeniously framed that it requires one skilled in the law to see that it takes power out of the hands of the Common Council, instead of conferring any such power as it professes to do; the which would not be the case if the Act of 1830 was also amended, thus complicating the questions and powers in relation to the Docks.

12. Because a Balance Dock is not a vessel "receiving and discharging" within the terms of the law; but a "permanent, stationary fixture," and as such, not even the municipal authority has the right to say that it shall occupy the slips required for the shipping.

JUSTICE.

From Barbadoes.

By the bark N. H. Gaston, of this port, we have a Barbadoes price current of March 24.

There is a fair demand for Breadstuffs and Provisions. The Market is moderately supplied, and with an improved local consumption, Corn Meal has advanced in value 50c. to 75c. per barrel; the similar rates having been refused for a lot to arrive. Flour is in request for shipment, and prices are without change; choice brands of Superfine and Ohio Extra being freely taken at $7.

The Market is overstocked with Estate Supplies, and little doing in them.

The weather is rather dry, with very high winds occasionally, but continues, on the whole, favorable for sugar making. There have been no operations to speak of in Produce, the planters being unwilling sellers at the prices offering, viz: Sugar $3 50 per 100 lbs. and Molasses 13c. per gallon.

The public health continues good.

Three organized gangs of Seventeenth Ward ruffians, known as the "Reliefs," "Honeymans," and "Mackerels," numbering about two thousand in all, attended yesterday the funeral of the barkeeper CASSIDY, who was burned to death at the fire in First-avenue a few nights since. They were all dressed in a sort of semi uniform. Each of them wore a long-peaked cap, generally known as the rowdy style. Many were staggering drunk, and nearly every one of them was smoking.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPERIOR COURT—General Term.

Before Hon. Justices Hoffman, Slosson, Woodruff and Pierrepont.

DECISIONS—WHAT CONSTITUTES A NON-RESIDENT?

Barry vs. Bockover.—In this case a warrant of attachment was granted against the defendant, as a non-resident. Motion was made at Special Term to vacate the warrant on the ground that defendant was a resident. It was admitted that defendant lived and kept house in New-Jersey, where his family was, but that his entire business was conducted here; that he came here every day and remained all day; kept his bank account here, &c. There being no dispute as to the facts, HOFFMAN, J., denied the motion, and on appeal to General Term his decision is affirmed, and defendant held to be a non-resident within the attachment laws.

The Supreme Court, at General Term, in this district, has decided directly the reverse in Towner vs. Church, 2 Abbott's. The two Courts are, therefore, at issue in a very important question of daily occurrence.

Frederic Schwaun vs. Ernest Richter et al.—Order affirmed with costs.

S. G. Keyes vs. Wm. Moultine.—New trial ordered, costs to abide the event.

SUPERIOR COURT—Special Term.

Before Hon. Justice Pierrepont.

Simmons vs. De Barre.—The City Court of Brooklyn being one of limited jurisdiction, a copy of a judgment of divorce is not of itself evidence that the Court had acquired any right to make the decree. The record should have shown that the necessary steps had been taken to acquire jurisdiction. As the record has not been produced, I am compelled to order a new trial. The order to be settled on notice.

The Alleged Black Mail Case before the Recorder—Interesting Revelations.

The investigation into the charge brought by Mr. Andrew W. Dalton against Mr. Cyrus P. Durham, a railroad contractor, and Mr. N. W. Roberts, a lawyer of this City, of extorting sums of money from him, under the pretence that they had influence with the Mayor's squad of Police, and could prevent a descent upon his faro establishment at No. 1 Park-place, was resumed before Recorder BARNARD on Friday. The room was fearfully jammed with sporting characters and noted gamblers. Ex-Recorder Smith appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Ga Nun for the defendants. The Recorder, on hearing the evidence, thought it was sufficient to hold the parties charged, and fixed the bail at $1,000 each. Messrs. Roberts and Durham desired to make statements relative to the affair, and the Recorder having granted them permission, they addressed the Court in terms as follows. Mr. Roberts said:

"I am innocent of this charge; I never saw or heard of this man Dalton in my life, until Wyant came to my office with him and introduced him to me. I asked him to be seated, when he introduced his business by stating that he understood that I was well posted up in regard to the descents that were making upon gambling houses; that he wanted to deal faro at No. 1 Park-place until the first of May, and that if I would agree to give him information when a descent was to be made upon him he would pay me $25 then, and $25 per week thereafter so long as he should deal without interruption. I replied that he was a stranger to me, and that I knew of no complaint being made against him; but that if I should be employed to draw an affidavit against him upon which the Mayor should issue his warrant, and detail a posse of officers to execute it, and I should then give information to him, that it would make the whole proceeding a mere farce. Besides, his proposition in another sense would be an insulting one, for it implied that I would betray my client, which I never did. He still urged me to accept his offer, which I positively and peremptorily declined, and he left my office. About a week after this time, on the 1st of April, Dalton came again to my office and called me into a back room, in which no person was then present, and asked me where he could see Capt. Durham. I told him he was then sitting in the front office. I spoke to Durham and introduced him to Dalton. They sat down in the rear room of the office, conversed together a short time, and Dalton left. On the following day I met Capt. Durham, Dalton and Wyant on the sidewalk, a few doors from my office, in John street. Dalton said: "I have just given Mr. Durham $25, and will let him have $25 to-morrow." I replied: "If Durham is satisfied I am, of course," and passed into my office. At the first introduction of Dalton to me, the conversation took place at my desk, in my usual place of business, and was carried on not in an undertone, but in my usual manner. No mention whatever was made by Dalton or myself of the Mayor's squad in any of the conversations I had with him. I have never received a dollar of money from Dalton, or any other gambler in the City of New-York or elsewhere, either directly or indirectly, for the purpose of influencing my action against them or in their favor.

When Mr. Roberts had concluded, Mr. Durham addressed the Recorder. He said:

Your Honor must be aware that there is a cause for the assembling of so many gambling men in this room on this occasion.

Recorder Barnard—I do not know, Mr. Durham, whether they are gamblers or not.

Yes, Sir, resumed Mr. Durham, they are gamblers of different grades. Gambling has been one of the great errors of my life. I defy any man in the world to say that I ever did anything wrong except that I frequented gambling houses. It was a passion with me which I could not very well get over. All the time I was in successful business I would come to New-York, do the business that was required, and after I had done my business, as a business man should do, then the money that I would have in my pocket and the leisure hour that I would have to spend I would almost as certain as I lived spend in one of those gambling hells, and most invariably lost my money. Sometimes I won, but nine times out of ten I lost. I was first induced to go to these places when I was in billiard saloons and eating houses with these gentlemen—(excuse me for calling them gentlemen)—with these men; but I do not wish to mention names. They pigeoned me into these places, where I was robbed and plundered of what I had. I have not lost a very great amount of money, according to what a man who lived in the City of New-York would consider a large sum; but I have lost all I have made for the last ten years by gambling in this City. For the last six months I have been out of business, and I have a family. During a portion of this time I could send my children to the best schools in Brooklyn, and I associated in good society; but I became reduced as I continued to lose money. I was not successful in the last contract I took, and the consequence was I met with heavy losses, which, with gambling, has reduced me to low pecuniary circumstances. I applied first to Charles Ransom, a gambler, for assistance, and met him by appointment at Florence's Hotel. I told him I was out of business, that I had a claim against the State of New-York for a considerable amount of money which I expected to get, and which, if secured, would enable me to refund the money. He did not render me assistance at that time, but promised to do so at a subsequent period. When we met again he said, "You have been seen talking with Counsellor Roberts, and I am not disposed to assist you." He treated me very insultingly, and called me a blackhearted scoundrel. From that moment I made up my mind to prosecute gamblers. I informed the police of his establishment, and they made a descent upon it, took his checks and arrested him. I have never spoken to Ransom from that day to this; that is one cause why the gamblers are so much exasperated against me. I defy the gamblers to say that I have ever received any compensation from them. I never demanded any money from a gambler in my life, and never lost a dollar with a view of suing to get it back. I asked a Mr. Horton for the loan of $100, saying that I was "hard up." "Can't do it, Captain," said he; "I am a loser; but I'll give you $50, for which you can give me your watch as security," which I did. That amount, with the exception of what I received from Dalton, was the only money I ever received from gamblers. Wyant informed me that there was a game of faro at No. 1 Park-place, and said that he thought the parties would pay something not to have it broken up. Dalton called on me and said if I would not inform against him he would assist me. "How can I make a complaint against you, when I never was in your place?" I replied, "and as for informing against you, I might have information and I might not." He asked me how much I wanted; I told him $200; said he, "I'll let you have $150 and I'll give you $50 to-morrow and $50 a week afterwards, and if the game is lucky I'll give $200;" the next day we met and he gave me $25 more; we had another interview at Delmonico's, where he paid me $25 and at the same had me arrested; Mr. Roberts has not had one dollar from me except what I borrowed from him, and there was no arrangement between Roberts and myself that I should have any money; I have done wrong I admit, but not intending to do it.

Recorder Barnard—Did you never, Mr. Durham, make a demand against any man for money?

Mr. Durham—(with emphasis, and an oath)—Never, except to ask for a loan.

Recorder—Did you never institute a criminal process against any person for that purpose?

Mr. Durham—Never, in my life; and if I had been successful in business, I should not have been in my present position. I had a contract on the New-York and New-Haven road, which was successful; I would come to the City sometimes with $500 in my pocket, and on meeting these men that I see here, they would take me to a quiet saloon, where I had no idea that gambling would be done, eat their suppers with me, and would win money from me. "What the devil is the reason," I used to say, "that I can't win as well as those I see around me, who put in their $50 and draw out $1,000;" these very men have taunted me because I was arrested on this charge; since I have been in prison I have only solicited one man, a friend of my family, to become my bail, an owner of a large establishment, who could give bail for $50,000 as well as $2,000; he called to see me and I came out of my cell; says he, "Did you gamble, Mr. Durham?" "I did, Mr. H." said I, "but not on the professional side of the table; I gambled in places where I found all grades of men—merchants, clerks, lawyers and all sorts; I found he was a religious old fogy, and that I was degrading myself to ask him to bail me, I was satisfied, and have not spoken to any one since upon the subject.

The Recorder—Did you ever, Mr. Durham, see lawyers have money sufficient, at these tables, to gamble with?

Mr. Durham—I have, but I do not know where it came from. They did not get it by contracting for railroads.

As the bail was not forthcoming, the defendants were conveyed to the Tombs, by the officers in attendance.

Terrible Crevasse in Arkansas.

The Southern mail brings particulars of the crevasse in Arkansas, reported previously by telegraph. The levees on the Mississippi below Napoleon gave way last week, and the break grew rapidly larger until the whole neighboring country became submerged. Large plantations, valued at $50 per acre, were completely covered, and nearly all the live stock swept away; all, in fact, save the few who congregated upon little patches of rising ground here and there, of some few feet in extent.

In many places private dwellings furnished shelter and protection to "man and beast." As in cases of double tenements somewhat elevated, whites occupied one end of the building, negroes the other, while in the intermediate porch cattle would be huddled as thick as they could stand. In very many instances, however, the houses themselves were deserted, the owners having been compelled to betake themselves to dugouts, boats and rafts, or whatever came first to hand.

The suffering and distress of the inhabitants is described as having been severe in the extreme. Our informant states that up to the time he left fears were entertained that the levee would give way in other places below the first break, and all who could render any effective service were busily employed catching drift-wood and piling it upon the levee, and using all other means in their power to raise it so as to curb the impetuous flood.

Our informant was detained at the landing two days before he could get a boat to send out a yawl for himself and family, and they finally had to take the Ingomar, (bound for New-Orleans,) as far as Napoleon, where they waited for the Nebraska. Arrived at Napoleon, he found the citizens boating through the streets, that worthy burgh having also been inundated.

The damage done to the fertile country, covered by this overflow, cannot easily be estimated, as, in addition to the actual loss of property, the land is rendered totally unfit for tillage during the present season. Moreover, it is highly probable that this influx will cause the waters of the Yazoo to back up so as to flood that rich delta likewise. And if so, a material curtailment in the great staple, of which Mississippi is the chief producer, may be expected for the coming season.

Terrible Conflagration at Grand Rapids, Michigan.

From the Grand Rapids Eagle, 7th.

At about 11 o'clock last evening our citizens were alarmed by the cry of fire, and with it the whole city was almost immediately illuminated by the flames which burst out and shot up from a sash factory nearly adjoining the bridge, on the North side and at the East end of it. The flames spread like wildfire, until three large manufacturing establishments, the Grand River Bridge from one end to the other, together with the toll-house at the West end were wrapped in one unbroken sheet of flame. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. It originated in a building owned by J. Scott, and known as "Scott's Factory." His loss is estimated at $2,500—no insurance. It was also occupied by Granger & Co., as a shingle factory; loss estimated at $1,700. The building adjoining was owned by S. G. McKane, the lower part occupied as an axe factory by D. Alcumbrack and F. T. Ranney, and the upper part as a sash and blind factory by Temple & Dickinson. Mr. McKane's loss is estimated at $3,000. Ranney & Alcumbrack's loss is estimated at $1,200. The bridge was owned by a company. Loss $10,000. A three-story building on the South side of the bridge was the next and last destroyed. It was owned, together with the machinery, by David Caswell, and was occupied by Cutler & Kingman as a pail and tub factory; Day & Rosenburg as a planing mill; Borst & Naysmith as a carpenter shop, and Mr. Widdicomb as a furniture manufacturing establishment. Mr. Caswell's loss is estimated at $3,500—no insurance; Cutler & Kingman near $2,000—no insurance; Day & Rosenburg $5,000—no insurance; Borst & Naysmith, loss not ascertained; Mr. Widdicomb's loss, $400—no insurance.

Mormonism—The Affairs of Parley Pratt and Mrs. McLain.

EDS. COM.: It will be remembered by many of your readers that PARLEY P. PRATT (one of the twelve apostles of the Salt Lake Mormon Church,) was killed by Mr. MCLAIN, after he had taken the wife of Mr. MCLAIN unto himself. The children of Mr. and Mrs. MCLAIN were secretly taken away from the guardianship of their grandparents, (the father and mother of MRS. MCLAIN,) for the purpose of taking them to Utah. To prevent these children from being carried off to Utah, I communicated a knowledge of facts in my possession to their grandfather. I neither expected nor advocated the killing of PRATT, but I have obtained indisputable evidence that the Danites of BRIGHAM YOUNG'S Church have decreed that I shall share in the fate of P. P. PRATT.

The public, and more especially the constituted authorities of this city, will, therefore, understand where they may find the guilty party in case they succeed in their malicious and murderous designs. I can, however, look back with delight on the part that I performed for the deliverance of these children from Salt Lake degradation, although I know that it may cost me my life, unless the publication of these facts prevents it. If I am sacrificed for this act, I shall die a martyr's death, for I never sought the life of PARLEY P. PRATT, and I detest the wicked practices of Salt Lake Mormonism, inasmuch as I am a believer in those principles which were formerly called Mormonism, and which the Salt Lake leaders have abandoned.

4. The Express Railroad gallop, arranged by.......Musard
THE MONSTER ORCHESTRA.
THE EXPRESS GALLOP

forms a grand musical picture of the rapid and exciting impressions of a journey by railroad. It describes:

1. The gathering of the passengers at the dépôt, and the usual hurry and confusion on that occasion.
2. The conductor's whistle and locomotive bell.
3. The departure of the train; the locomotive carefully pulsing through the streets darts quickly into the open country—hot and furious—gaining strength with its activity, it hurries onward to its distant goal. Bang! A roadside station is passed. Still more steam. The train approaches the tunnel. The steam-whistle gives the signal. The locomotive slackens its speed. It passes through, and traverses once more the open country, until the station appears in the dim distance. The engineer gives the signal, the brakemen take their places, and the train cautiously approaches the dépôt. The last throbs of the locomotive as it runs into the machine-shop. Blowing off steam. The end of the journey.

The spirited melody of this gallop will recommend itself to all hearers. The audience will be carried along as the composer intended. But there are several points to which attention is called. These are the methods of imitating the various engineering characteristics of a railroad trip, such as the puffing of the locomotive, the whiz of the cars, &c., by an ingenious distribution of the instruments of the orchestra aided by certain machinery brought by M. Musard from Paris, but there being an important difference between a French locomotive and an American one, M. Musard consulted "local truth," and had a new machine manufactured expressly for his use at the celebrated Novelty Works. This machine will be used in the performance of the Express Galop.

5. Celestine (Polka Rondo for cornet)..........Legendre
Monsieur LEGENDRE.
5. Les Zouaves on the Malakoff..................Musard
GRAND BATTLE QUADRILLE.
THE MONSTER ORCHESTRA.

The idea of the Battle Quadrille is taken from an incident during the war in the Crimea, according to which the Zouaves played the well-known vaudeville "Le Piano de Berthe," in the middle of which they were called away to storm the Korniloff. After having covered themselves with glory in gaining possession of the Bastion, a second lieutenant proposed to finish the interrupted play, and it was brought to an end amid the cheers of the French camp.

The first four movements of Les Zouaves consist of the "sets" which a military band would be likely to play. The fifth figure commences and the dance progresses with the best possible spirit, when suddenly an alarm is heard. In a moment the note of preparation is taken up on all sides. Battalion replies to the summons and the troops fall in. The drums and clarions convey the idea of assembling multitudes, and the march which follows conducts the mind to the contemplation of a martial achievement. As troop after troop, and battalion after battalion disappear, the music becomes more subdued; the French steal silently through their trenches and after a murderous struggle succeed in hoisting the tri-color on the Korniloff Bastion. Then the Zouaves, with reckless daring, and that elasticity of temper for which they are remarkable, return to the camp and finish their interrupted bal.

Some astonishing effects, never before introduced in orchestral work, are wrought out in the most skillful manner in this Quadrille. All the frightful tumult of a hot engagement is conveyed to the audience with startling reality, and it will be observed that the Quadrille, from beginning to end, never deviates from its true military character.

INTERMISSION.
PART II.

The commencement of the second part of the Concert will be notified by the

SIGISMUND THALBERG.
4. The Cattle Show (Comic quadrille)..........Musard
Boeufs and moutons (beef and mutton.)
THE MONSTER ORCHESTRA.

This Quadrille, which is simple "jeu d'esprit," has been composed by Musard, during the agricultural fair held at the French Crystal Palace in 1856, and played for the first time at the dinner given by the French Government to the successful exhibitors.

The flocks and herds as they descend the mountain side are gathered together by the shepherd. The bell-wethers are placed in front and lead the way to the city show. The basing of the lambs, the lowing of the cows, the roaring of the bulls, are imitated in the orcestra with the regular instruments.

5. The Rataplan..................Malibran
Mme. D'ANGRI.
6. Variations (Ophicleide)..................Moreau
Mons MOREAU.
7. The Military Polka..................Musard
THE MONSTER ORCHESTRA.

Woman and her Work.—The Rev. E. H. CHAPIN—THURSDAY, April 15.

Woman and the Elective Franchise.—Mrs. LUCY STONE—THURSDAY, April 22.

Benefit to Woman of Organized Emigration.—The Hon. ELI THAYER.

These Lectures are given in aid of the Shirt Sewers' and Seamstresses' Union, No. 1 Astor place. The Lecturers have generously undertaken the series in view of the importance of the subjects to be discussed.

WOMAN'S SPHERE.

In New-York City alone $13,000,000 is a low estimate of the annual expense of preventable sickness. This deeply concerns Woman. Dr. CHAPIN, in examining the great evil of over work or no work, will clearly demonstrate that her sphere is bounded only by humanity itself, and that the time has come when full opportunities should be granted to Woman to do her work well.

Ladies desiring to hear these Lectures, can attend without embarrassment, as seats are secured as stated below:
Admission 50 cents.
Doors open at 7; Lecture commences at 8.
No extra charge for reserved seats.

LICHTENSTEIN'S TEMPLE OF TASTE.—"Ribbons are all the ton, now, for dress trimmings, in Europe," observed a lady yesterday, just arrived in the steamer. "But how did LICHTENSTEIN (No 387 Broadway) succeed in getting such admirable copies of the very kind, color and quality worn at the wedding of the Princess Royal of England?" LICHTENSTEIN imported them expressly for the purpose. He knew they would be the style among New-York ladies of fashion the current season. These ribbons embrace some of the prettiest possible shades, and are admirably adapted for bows and trimmings up the sides of the dress. LICHTENSTEIN has also some charming ribbons adapted for the bordering of shawls. In short, his Temple of Taste is the place for all who are determined to excel in the marked elegance, the surpassing excellence, the rare color and quality of their dress trimmings, and yet have an eye to a sensible economy. Politeness, prompt attention, an accommodating spirit, and the finest goods in the market, are the ruling principles at LICHTENSTEIN'S, No. 387 Broadway.

REMOVAL OF THE TIMES OFFICE.

On or about the 1st of May the Times Establishment will be removed to the new Times Building upon Park Row, Spruce-street and Nassau-street. We are now engaged in putting up new steam boilers and engines, and Hoe's Ten Cylinder Presses, in the vaults of the new building, and as soon as these are ready for use the removal will take place. When once established in our new quarters, we hope to introduce various additions and improvements in the management of The Times, from which we have been precluded hitherto by lack of space and other needed facilities.

The business of The Times is steadily and rapidly increasing. Our circulation is constantly extended, and our daily receipts for Advertising were never larger than they are at present. Our new Building has been constructed expressly for the accommodation of our business, and will permit of its extension to an unlimited extent. It is perfectly fire-proof, being built of stone, brick and iron from top to bottom, and is beyond question the finest Newspaper Establishment in the world. We shall do everything in our power to render The Times itself fully worthy of its new habitation.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

By the arrival of the steamship Tennessee at New-Orleans from Vera Cruz, we have received late and important news from Mexico. Gen. Osollo, acting in behalf of the Zuloaga Government, had taken the City of Guadalajara, capturing the entire Government of Juarez. The officers of the latter were permitted to leave the country. Vera Cruz is now the most important place that holds out for the Constitutionalist party.

In the State Senate on Saturday, the bill originating in that body authorizing the registration of voters was passed, 18 to 14. All the members were present. The Republicans and Americans voted together for the bill and the Democrats against it. The bill to legalize the sale of stocks on time was also passed. The bill to repeal the Metropolitan Police law was defeated—the vote being 11 yeas and 17 nays. The bill to encourage the use of steam on the Canals was voted down, but the vote was subsequently reconsidered, and the bill was passed, 19 to 11. The bill to prevent the admission of minors under 14 years of age to the theatres of this City, unless accompanied by parents or guardians, was passed. In the Assembly, the bill for the regulation of the ferries between this City and Brooklyn was ordered to a third reading. An important bill—that to increase the efficiency of the Engineer Department—was also ordered to a third reading. It repeals certain provisions of an act passed last year, conferring power upon the "Contracting Board," so called, in respect to the appointment and control of engineers; and directs that the Canal Board shall appoint no engineer without a certificate from the State Engineer and Surveyor of the appointee's competency in point of professional qualification and personal character. The State Engineer and Surveyor is also to be empowered to suspend any engineers for misconduct. The Annual Tax bill for this City was passed, 82 to 7. It was agreed to hold three sessions per day on and after to-day—the afternoon and evening sessions to be devoted to the passage of bills. Thursday next will be the hundredth day of the session, and, judging from the vote to hold three sittings daily, it is evidently intended to close the session this week.

The Canal Board on Saturday voted to make reductions of the tolls on wheat, flour, marble, stones and cast iron ware. The reduction on wheat and flour is from three mills to two mills per mile for every thousand pounds. The reduction on marble is one-half mill, and that on stones and cast iron ware is one mill. The reductions require the assent of the Legislature.

The expected event, prematurely announced on Friday—the death of the Hon. Thomas H. Benton—took place on Saturday morning at 7½ o'clock, and the last moments of the veteran statesman were characterized by the same fortitude which has distinguished his long and painful illness. President Buchanan had a long interview with him on Friday evening, which is described as having been very affecting. Funeral services will be performed over his remains to-day, after which they will be conveyed to St Louis, accompanied by the Missouri delegation in Congress.

Proposals are invited by the Secretary of the Treasury for the issue of the whole or any portion of five millions of dollars in Treasury Notes in exchange for gold—bids to be received until the 10th of May.

Captain Ward, of the bark Hyperion, from Trinidad, (Port Spain,) arrived yesterday, reports having touched at the west end of St. Croix, about 2d inst., and that a schooner had just arrived at that place, full of passengers, fleeing from an insurrection that had taken place on that island. An English war steamer, lying at the west end, immediately got under way, and proceeded to Antigua. We have no further particulars.

On Saturday morning Mr. Conover delivered the keys of the Street Commissioner's office to the Mayor. During the day several parties waited upon the Mayor, informing him that an injunction had been applied for to restrain him from taking any papers from the office. The Mayor replied that such a movement was unnecessary, as he did not intend to disturb any of the papers, and he added that he did not intend to allow any one else to disturb them.

The Mayor will probably send a communication this evening to the Board of Aldermen, showing cause why in his opinion Devlin should be removed from office. Sergeant Croft and a posse of policemen are stationed in the Hall of Records to prevent any disturbance.

Justice Welsh, a Police Magistrate attached to the Tombs, has addressed a letter to Mr. Ullman, informing him that his proposed Masquerade Balls at the Academy of Music are in violation of the laws of the State, and calling upon him as a law-abiding citizen to abandon the project altogether.

There were 485 deaths in the City last week—eleven less than during the week preceding. Of these, 17 were caused by small pox, and 12 by violent causes.

The General Markets, on Saturday, were less active for Cotton, yet holders were firm. Flour was more freely dealt in, but at slightly reduced prices. Grain was generally quite dull, and buyers had any existing advantage. Sugars were more sought after, at full rates. Provisions were depressed, with more offering. In other branches of trade no really new feature was discernible. The number of vessels, of all classes, in port, was 545.

The Kansas Question in Congress.

It is intimated, with increasing confidence, in semi-official quarters, that the Administration is not disinclined to capitulate on the Kansas question and assent to enactment of the Crittenden substitute for the Kansas bill. The President and his friends must have become convinced of their inability to force the Lecompton Constitution upon the House of Representatives or the people of Kansas. Every possible appliance has been used to coerce or seduce the South Americans and the Douglas Democrats from their position upon this question, but without effect. They are immovably hostile to the consummation of this great wrong. If things remain as they now are, therefore, the Kansas bill will fall through entirely and the people of the Territory will be left to make another application, under a new Constitution, for admission into the Union. They would present, undoubtedly, the instrument just framed by the recent Convention,—though the provisions which the ultra Anti-Slavery men have forced into it concerning negro-suffrage may lead to its rejection by the people. But doubts have been thrown upon the legal validity of this Convention, by the opinion of Attorney-General Black, who has declared the law under which it was held to be null and void. It it desirable on all accounts that the question when next presented should come in a shape free from all objections of whatever character,—and we hope, therefore, that it will go back to the people of Kansas for fresh action, under such provisions as are embraced in the Crittenden bill.

There may be, in these professions of a willingness to adopt that substitute, a design to deceive some of the Douglas Democrats into voting for a Committee of Conference, and then to use the power thus obtained in a new endeavor to force the Senate bill through the House. The majority in the House can effectually block any such game as this by taking the appointment of the Committee into their own hands, and placing upon it men on whose firmness and sagacity they can rely. Under no circumstances should they intrust its appointment to Speaker Orr. He has forfeited all claim to the confidence and the indulgence of the House by his appointment of the Committee of thirteen. A grosser or more flagrant breach of justice, as well as of parliamentary law, has never been perpetrated.

We are surprised to see in some Republican journals very indignant protests against the adoption of the Crittenden substitute, with the amendment proposed. Upon what plausible ground of justice or good policy, such action can be resisted, we are not aware. It is said that it will be presented as an Administration measure. So much the better. We wish we could see any such evidence of a disposition on the part of the President to retrace his steps, and come back to the ground which he occupied before the receipt of the Lecompton Constitution. The question at issue is simply this—whether the Lecompton Constitution shall, or shall not, receive the approbation of the people of Kansas previous to its admission. The Administration took the ground that it was not necessary, and that Kansas should be admitted without it. Senator Douglas joined the Republicans in insisting that the Constitution should be sent back; and the Crittenden amendment sends it back, for adoption or rejection, by the people of Kansas. The Republicans have already voted in favor of this course, and they are not likely to vote against it merely because the Administration may seem inclined to yield to their demands.

One excellent feature of the Crittenden bill is that it provides fully for an honest vote upon the Lecompton Canstitution, and in the event of its rejection, authorizes proceedings de novo for the formation of a new one. The collisions and wranglings of the past are thus ignored, and provision is made for a Convention in which all parties and all classes will gladly take part. If no bill is passed, we shall have a renewal of the struggle upon any new Constitution that may be presented. As things stand now in the Territory, neither party admits the legality of the other's action, and neither participates in elections ordered by the other. So long as this state of affairs continues, it will be very difficult to effect any satisfactory adjustment of this vexed question. The true policy is that of the Crittenden bill—wipe out the past, make a clean slate and begin again.

Important from Mexico.—The news from Mexico which we publish this morning is of considerable importance. It proves that the new Government, of which General Zuloaga is the temporary head, is made up of stronger materials than many people supposed. The new Government has given evidence of its strength in a manner that cannot fail to exercise a weighty influence on the future destinies of the Republic. We learn by telegraph from New-Orleans that General Osollo, acting in behalf of the Zuloaga Government, has taken the city of Guadalajara, and, with it, the entire Government of the Juarez or Constitutionalist party. Osollo, after his victory, left for the Capital, and it is stated that, on his arrival there, he will be declared President. The only place of importance that still holds out for the representatives of the late Comonfort party is Vera Cruz; but, with all Mexico against it, there is not much probability that that city will long contiuue rebellious. Zuloaga's victory over his opponents is to be attributed, in a great measure, to his early conciliation of the Ecclesiastical power. To restore the Church property that Comonfort had confiscated was one of his first acts after undertaking the responsibilities of office. By this means, it is conjectured, he obtained sufficient funds to prosecute the war to a successful end. Zuloaga was also far-seeing enough to make friends with Spain. He knew that he could never retain his position and, at the same time, carry on a war with a foreign enemy. He has altogether shown himself so astute that we doubt whether he will yield the Presidency to another without a struggle, though that other is one of his own party, and pledged to carry out his own programme. But the next arrival will probably enlighten us upon this point. The turn which affairs have taken in Mexico must effectually check the aspirations of Santa Anna in that quarter. His chief reliance was the assistance of Spain and the Church; Zuloaga has forestalled him by conciliating both the one and the other.

Outrages Upon Americans in China.

Some of our cotemporaries find fault with our views on the China question, and the Tribune, in particular, defines our statement that Americans in China have been outraged in person and property, as a random assertion. It is unnecessary to inform the readers of the Times that our remarks upon this subject were founded on facts in current history. We have made no random assertion: but to enlighten the Tribune writer, whose knowledge of affairs in China is very limited, we shall here recapitulate what has been so fully detailed in former numbers of this journal.

We presume that even the Tribune, after it is informed of the fact, will not deny that an outrage was committed by Chinese authorities upon the persons and property of American citizens when a boat's crew, trusting to their flag for security, were wantonly fired at from the Barrier forts. It is true that the outrage was partly avenged by the capture and destruction of the aggressive forts; but to our demands for an apology we only received the insulting answer that the Celestial authorities knew no difference between the British and American ensigns. The reply was eminently characteristic: it was quite on a par with Yeh's answer to the Anglo-French ultimatum, when he declared that he had never heard of France, and did not believe there was such a country on the face of the globe. From the energetic manner in which the Barrier forts were destroyed, Americans in China were encouraged to hope that their Government had at last resolved to protect their rights and interests, which were the rights and interests of the United States in the East. These hopes were strengthened when Dr. Parker, in his circular, dated on board the San Jacinto, 25th of November, 1856, promised that Commodore Armstrong would not desist from the measures which the policy of the Imperial Commission forced upon him till apologies for the outrage on our flag, and guarantees for its future respect, were obtained. But it is well known that neither apology nor guarantee were ever given. On the contrary, fresh outrages were perpetrated. After his attack on the forts, Commodore Armstrong, acting under instructions, withdrew his ships with unbecoming haste from Whampoa, and his retreat was the signal for an ebullition of Chinese vengeance. The effects of the United States Consular Agency at that place were immediately destroyed by order of the authorities, though the American flag was flying there at the time, and posters were affixed, warning people to respect the property of our representative. A perfectly reliable correspondent of this journal—an American citizen who has been a resident of China for thirteen years—describing some of the outrages committed at Whampoa after the affair at the Barrier forts, used the following language in a letter which we printed not long since:

> "The American Bethel was removed from its anchorage and destroyed, and a man (a German, I believe) was murdered in Dr. Ryder's chop, anchored there, with the American flag flying at the time! This last act was probably the result of Yeh's offer of reward for the heads of foreigners, as was also the exhuming and beheading the bodies of the American sailors who fell in action at the Barrier forts—and all in direct violation of those treaty stipulations which give immunity to our churches and burial-grounds. Why have we a navy, if acts like these are to pass unnoticed? and what aid or protection can Americans hereafter expect in China, if these and other wrongs go unredressed? To what source can they look for indemnification of pecuniary losses already suffered through the action of the Government of China? or is it to be understood that our Government ceases to care for us the moment of departure from our shores?"

These facts have been confirmed by evidence from a dozen other sources. They cannot be gainsaid. We have been informed by persons lately returned from the East that several of our citizens fell victims to Yeh's inhuman edict. Every one, except the Tribune, knows that an immense amount of American property was destroyed in the vicinity of Canton, and though it is to be hoped that the condition of affairs in that city has improved, and will continue to improve under an Anglo-French Protectorate, yet it is notorious that Americans in China have received but little assistance or protection from the presence of an American fleet. Commodore Armstrong, as gallant an officer as ever lived, was prepared to act differently; he was ready to carry out the work he began so vigorously at the Barrier forts, nor stop in his arguments of force until he had compelled the Chinese authorities to respect our flag and the lives and property of our citizens. But other counsels and other arguments prevailed.

We have surely said enough to convince even the Tribune that the outrages committed upon Americans in China are perfectly authentic. The particular offences to which we have alluded occurred within the last sixteen months. We do not travel further back for our facts, (which we might do,) and instance the murder of Cunningham as one among other crimes, permitted to go unpunished. We do not dwell upon the insults and annoyances to which Americans in China are continually subjected, or their utter insecurity among a people who have no respect for treaty obligations, and no appreciation of national honor. We do not urge, as an excuse for war, the incessant interruptions to commerce, and the wholesale robberies that are perpetrated by the piratical hords which infest the China Seas. Yet these are evils from which our people, from want of proper protection, must especially suffer. Nor in discussing the merits of this question, and in condemning, as we emphatically do, our Government's neutrality, have we entered at all into its commercial aspects, or considered (as we might do) the paramount advantages which China herself will reap from a free intercourse with civilized nations. We only advance the argument that Christian Powers have been treated long enough as "outside Barbarians" by such fellows as Yeh, and that the interests of America in the result of this contest, are certainly not less than those of Europe. We have borne long enough with Chinese duplicity, cunning and cruelty, and we believe that it is not only our right, but our duty, all other means having failed, to compel them, even at the cannon's mouth, to recognize treaties which they have hitherto only made to violate. Regarded from any point of view, the present movement against China, in behalf of Civilization, is one of great moment. We have no doubt of its ultimate success. In that success the United States is as much concerned as England, France, or Russia can be, and hence it is that we deplore the inactivity of our Government in a matter of such grave importance.

Wall-Street Redeemed.

We are more frequently moved to congratulate our legislators at Albany on leaving undone things which, had they meddled with them, would almost certainly have been ill done, than on doing things which everybody agrees it was becoming that they should do. On Saturday last, however, the Solons of the State earned an exceptional tribute of honor. They read for the third time and passed Mr. Austin's "act to legalize the sale of stocks on time," sent it up to the Governor, who, after an hour's consideration upon the novelty and strangeness of the deed, affixed his signature to the bill; and thus a few strokes of the pen have converted the Board of Brokers from a band of outlaws into a guild of merchants, and have dealt upon unwise and headlong speculation a heavier blow than all the financial crises in our history combined could inflict upon it. The prohibitory sections of the revised statutes are repealed, and contracts for stock of whatever kind will be henceforth subjected to the regular action of the laws of the land.

This change in our legislation is of an honesty and simplicity so absolute that one begins already to wonder how it ever should have been needed. When the bare question of the legitimacy or illegitimacy of stock values and consequently of the commerce in stocks is thus suddenly raised, it seems so clearly and positively a onesided question, incapable of any but an affirmative answer, that laws intended to arrest the pernicious development of an unwholesome traffic in stocks by making all such traffic unwholesome, must appear to every understanding as the apt parallels and exemplars of the old English legislation which fostered the Birmingham factories by voiding every tailor's contract for a coat without metal buttons.

The whole stock business as it now exists is a creation of modern enterprise. Stock loans, whether made by States or private corporations, are a modern device, and the whole system of the industrial coöperation of capitalists is hardly older than the science of political economy—that youngest born of the modern Muses. It is not therefore altogether surprising that in our first attempts to check the ruinous excesses to which this business, like every other business, has been pushed by modern enterprise in the freedom of individual effort—we should have been foolish enough to put the cart before the horse, and to incite the worst evils that we sought to avoid. By removing the restraints of legal obligation we threw the stockmarket open to "outsiders" of every class and degree. Clerks, merchants, lawyers, clergymen even, men of every occupation and position in life were tempted by the immensely increased facility of operating first into taking real risks very lightly, and then as their sense of obligation wore gradually away, into downright gambling of the most demoralizing sort, in which the payment of the winner's gains depends upon the loser's momentary convenience and disposition. It is this vast "cloud of witnesses" and casual participants in the chances of the game to which nine-tenths of the wildest speculation and no inconsiderable share of the general opprobrium, associated with the idea of the Broker's Board, must fairly be attributed. Within its own precincts the Board has always been obliged to govern itself by laws of its own, and to found an imperium in imperio since the public law was withdrawn from its proceedings. And we are very much inclined to believe that the records of its transactions would bear exposure to the day quite as well as the history of our Banks, or of any other class of dealers among us in whatever branch of commerce engaged. The thing is certain that it is the Brokers themselves who have asked to be redeemed from their unchartered freedom into the true liberty of law. Their exchange is to stand now on the same footing with the exchange of the dealers in corn, in sugar, in produce and in other articles which have been shown during the last few years to be as curiously susceptible of the magic of "corners," "bulling" and "bearing," as "Erie," "New-York Central," or "Potosi" itself. They have taken a new master. Let us see if they will not approve themselves new men.

Of course it would be idle to expect from the new state of the law a sudden abatement and a final cure of the fever of speculation. That fever is in the blood of the age, and it inflames every branch of human industry, every department of human interest. When a Yorkshire jockey can bring the "wealth, beauty and fashion" of Great Britain to his feet by the potent spell of a book of dividends—when a staid old German city advertises, as Saxon Leipsic did three years ago, for 3,000,000 of subscriptions to a railway at nine in the morning and closes her lists of offers at noon with nearly fifty millions of subscriptions—when a place of Agent de Change, or legal stockbroker, in Paris, with its diploma from the Government, can be sold in the market for 2,500,000 francs, as was the case but six months since—when these things and such as these are the staple of commercial journalism, it is puerile to suppose that laws or sermons, lectures or leading articles can ever rob the bears of their claws, or the bulls of their horns. But the repeal of a worse than nonsensical law, and the rescue of a whole class of our fellow-citizens from an unmerited peculiarity of odium, are matter for serious satisfaction. Let the laws on usury now follow the laws on stock-jobbing into the limbo of absurdity, and Wall-street will be redeemed, if not from its worst sins, at least from some of its worst temptations.

Woes of the Administration.—If the public has tears to shed, it may as well prepare to shed them now. The official wail contained in the article from the Washington Union, which we copy in another column, is enough to melt the stoutest heart. We are confident none but the most insensate and flinty of the Black Republicans, and possibly the Douglas Democrats, can refuse their sympathy to so touching a tale of Presidential distress. The Administration, it seems, is utterly powerless in a Congress where it had, at the outset, a commanding majority in both branches. Upon Kansas it is defeated by its Northern "friends"—and upon every other question by its Southern. This is a decided "fix."

Another Chance for Philadelphia.—The Philadelphians are growing excited on the subject of steam communication with Europe. It has been the fate of all the attempts made to establish a line of European steamers from our sister City, that no sooner have the ships commenced running than stern necessity has compelled their transfer to New-York. But now the tables are about to be turned upon us, and the Philadelphians propose to purchase the Collins steamers, and make one more attempt to establish direct steam communication between the Delaware and Europe. A meeting of the Philadelphia Board of Trade has been held to consider the subject, and the citizens generally have taken the matter in hand. The Pennsylvanian estimates that Philadelphia now pays to New-York $50,000,000 annually for foreign goods, the profits on which are about $15,000,000, all of which, it is assumed, might be saved if the Collins steamers were set a-running between Philadelphia and Southampton. "A Pennsylvanian President," our cotemporary of the right-angled city says, "will certainly support the claims of Philadelphia to a legitimate share of the Goverment subsidy, which was so long and so unjustly denied them." If this should not be done, the Pennsylvanian anticipates the gloomiest consequences to Philadelphia—nothing less than "a total loss of our foreign trade within five, or, perhaps, ten years at the utmost;" and that that now flourishing city "will become the catacombs of America—a petrifaction."

It can hardly be true that the condition of our great rival is so critical that three steamships and a Government subsidy are required to save her from becoming a Tadmor or a Persepolis. The ships may be bought, but a Government subsidy can hardly be looked for. It would not look well for even a "Pennsylvanian President" to exhibit such a very decided local partiality, or recommend an appropriation for the steamers when they were transferred to Philadelphia, which was withheld from them when they belonged to New-York.

The Masquerade Ball.—Police Justice Welsh has addressed an epistle to Mr. Ullmann, warning him against giving the grand masquerade ball which has been for a long time in course of preparation at the Academy. He refers him to the law of the State which forbids all such exhibitions, and requires every person to show his face at all public places as a guarantee of his good behavior. What effect this official warning will have upon Mr. Ullmann's movements remains to be seen. The information which it embodies will not be new to him, for several weeks since, when this ball was first projected, he stated in a printed circular that he had consulted eminent counsel upon the subject, and had been assured that the law was a dead letter, and would never be enforced against any respectable and orderly entertainment of the kind.

We apprehend, however, that Mr. Ullmann will be obliged to change somewhat the character of his exhibition, in order to protect it from the interference and protest of the authorities. He will probably convert it into a grand fancy dress ball,—the mask being laid aside, and in that way will make it a good deal more amusing than a masquerade would be. The fact is, this species of amusement is not at all suited to the habits and temperament of our people, and would be very likely, we suspect, to be a very slow and dull affair. Our people don't care to talk to ladies with pasteboard faces; they prefer to expend their wit where they can observe its effect. Our sociability is not so exuberant that we care to bestow it upon people who are invisible. Besides, the tendency of masquerades is unquestionably immoral, and their introduction among us would be regarded with great disfavor by the mass of the community.

Organic Astuteness—To be an Administration organ is little short of being inspired. In proof of this, just look at the Washington Union. That miraculous sheet has made a discovery which must astonish the country. It is, that unless the political friends of the President support him, he will be beaten. For lack of such support, the Union says, the Administration was twice beaten on Thursday. And what was still worse, when a partial rescue came, it was owing to the commiseration of Black Republicans.

Our advice is, that the organ should continue vigorously to berate refractory Democrats. Possibly it may reclaim them.

Amusements.

The Academy of Music reopens to-night with Musard, and an orchestra of one hundred and twenty, and Mme. D'Angri, and Mr. Thalberg. Full particulars are published elsewhere, and it is only necessary to say in this place, that the rehearsals have been plentiful and complete, and that the orchestra is by far the best ever heard in this City. The price of admission is fixed at fifty cents; nothing can be cheaper and nothing better (of their kind) than these concerts. We hope sincerely that the public will appreciate them at their just valne. The programme for to-night contains some of M. Musard's most popular quadrilles, galops and polkas; several solos, vocal and instrumental, and in short everything that is necessary for the filling up of a rich bill of fare.

The spasmodic revival of the legitimate, which characterized the past week at the leading Broadway Theatres, appears to have died out, and without provoking especial lamentation. The attack was certainly of short duration, and unhappy at that, for it must be confessed that empty benches present a sorry spectacle to the mildest of the legitimatists, and a scene of unusual anguish to the intenser sort. But brief and violent as was the spasm, it has not been without its pleasant results. It has demonstrated most conclusively that Mr. Edwin Booth has made vast strides in his profession, and is rapidly becoming the best of living tragedians; it has produced an artist (almost forgotten) of decided worth in Mr. James Stark, and better still, has presented to a New-York audience a tragédienne of remarkable powers, Mrs. Waller. The performance of this lady in Webster's "Duchess of Malfi" has created a decided sensation in dramatic circles, and deservedly so, for, although there were violent faults in the impersonation, it was on the whole truly remarkable for its intensity and impressiveness. All that Mrs. Waller needs is a Metropolitan audience, and a fair, unsparing and critical consideration. This much she asks to-night in the character of Lady Macbeth. Mr. Waller plays Macbeth on the occasion, and the other characters will be sustained by the members of the Broadway Theatre stock company.

Wallack's Theatre returns to the "illegitimate" to-morrow night, by reviving Boucicault's play of the "Invisible Husband"—than which nothing more illegitimate (and interesting) exists. But for to-night Mr. Stuart accumulates new forces, and brings them to bear on Shakspeare's "Othello," which will be cast as follows: Othello, Mr. E. L. Davenport; Iago, Mr. Edwin Booth; Cassio, Mr. A. H. Davenport; Desdemona, Mrs. Hoey. Now, this is cast which ought to satisfy the most exacting public, and which should, under favorable circumstances, fill the treasury to overflowing. Let us hope it will do one or the other, or both.

At Niblo's Garden, the ever-wonderful Ravels (how much more wonderful now than ten years ago!) continue their course of farewell performances, and it is said will bring it to a final close in two weeks. This is but a short time for the "sweet sorrow" of saying good-bye to such deservedly popular artists. Let it be improved in the best manner possible. An excellent and varied programme is provided for to-night.

At Laura Keene's Theatre Tom Taylor's play, called "Plot and Passion," is to be revived, an indication that the recent revivals at this house have been profitable to the fair manageress. The excellent and fanciful burletta the "Statue Bride" is the afterpiece.

At the National three attractive pieces are announced, "The Inquisition," "The Necromancer" and "Tom Cringle." Concerning this establishment we are authorized to state that Mr. C. Blanchard and his famous dogs have arrived in the steamer America, and will commence an engagement with manager Purdy to-morrow evening.

At the Bowery Theatre the sisters Helen and Lucille have caused a prodigous sensation by their beauty and talent. The protean drama of the "Three Fast Men" will be played during the present week, and then withdrawn to make room for novelties. A favorite drama terminates the entertainment.

At the Museum an entirely original moral drama, called "The Heart of the World," and written by Mr. H. Watkins, will be produced to-night for the first time on any stage. In the afternoon the historical play of "Joan of Arc."

At Wood & Christy's Minstrels the panorama of the "Sleigh Ride" and Minstrelsy.

In the musical way we have to announce Mr. Eisfeld's classical soirée to-morrow evening at Dodworth's Saloon, and an attractive miscellaneous concert by Mr. George Leach, at the Athenæum, Brooklyn, also to-morrow evening.

Mason and Thomas' Matinee.—The fifth and last but one, of Mason and Thomas' Matinées at the Spingler Institute, on Saturday, brought forth an enticing programme and a packed house. Schumann's Quartette, in F Major, Op. 41, was excellently rendered by Messrs. Thomas, Mosenthal, Matzka and Bergmann; and was followed by Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 47, for piano and violin, performed by Messrs. Mason and Thomas. The last and most curious piece was Bach's triplet concerto for three pianos. Messrs. Scharfenberg, Timm, Mason, Thomas, Mosenthal, Matzka, Bergmann and Preusser, formed a capable octette part for the just development of the quaint but true musical beauties of this work. These concerts have been fashionably attended, and have been given at an hour when connoisseurs usually find leisure. The last of the series is announced for next Saturday. Messrs. Mason and Thomas must find a better room for next season.

City Items.

Judge Russell, in the Court of General Sessions, on Saturday, sentenced William Quinn, convicted of manslaughter in the fourth degree, to six months' imprisonment in the Penitentiary. A dispute had arisen between Quinn and a neighbor, respecting the pasturage of some cows, and the neighbor made an assault upon him. Quinn, in defending himself, struck him on the head with a pitchfork, and caused his death. Cornelius Quinn, son to the old man, was discharged by the Judge, as it was shown he was only a spectator of the conflict. The Recorder, on Saturday, sentenced W. H. Bartlett, convicted of an attempt at grand larceny, to two years and two months in the State Prison. Some other minor sentences were passed, and the Court adjourned. There were no Jury trials.

On Saturday, Recorder Barnard discharged Theodore Edgar, arrested by the Mayor's squad, on the charge of keeping a gambling-house in Lispenard-street, there being insufficient evidence that he was himself engaged in gambling. He was held, however, by the Recorder, on the other charge of assaulting the police. In default of $500 bail, he was taken back to the Tombs to await the action of the Grand Jury.

A man named D. W. D. Cameron, said to be the owner of considerable real estate and other property in his City, has occupied for the past five years apartments in the upper part of No. 69 Fulton-street. He appropriated the whole of the upper floor, comprising several spacious rooms, to his own use, the entire furniture consisting of a single cot, two rickety chairs and a plain pine table. Being unmarried, he has lived here the life of a bachelor recluse. On Saturday morning he was found lying on his cot so reduced in strength that he could not support his own weight. A physician was called, who at once pronounced his enfeebled state the result of starvation. He was taken to the City Hospital and properly cared for, and his papers removed to the Second Ward Station-house for safe keeping. He died yesterday afternoon.

Fifteen Pawnee warriors, who have been staying at the Astor House for some time past, in charge of Major Wm. N. Dennison, Indian Agent, danced in semi-nude costume for the edification of some two hundred persons, boarders at the house and invited guests, who assembled at the hotel to witness their performances, Saturday evening. The Indians visited Niblo's Theatre Friday night. They have ridden through the principal streets of the City in some of Adams & Co.'s Express wagons. They leave this morning, via the Erie Railroad, for their homes in Nebraska. They have ceded to the Government 12,000,000 acres of land, reserving for themselves only 12,000 acres, and are to receive in return an annuity of $40,000 for five years.

A meeting of hotel waiters was held at Hibernian Hall, No. 42 Prince-street, Friday evening, the object of which was to prepare for an organized "strike" for higher wages. The waiters think that $10, $12 and $14 per month which they now receive is not enough, and demand an increase of $2. Most of those at the meeting were discharged waiters of the St. Nicholas Hotel, who asserted that the proprietors of that establishment having lowered their wages last Fall, with a promise to give them $16 again on the 1st of April, had broken their promise, and still paid their employes at reduced rates. Another meeting will be held to-morrow evening, at which resolutions will be presented, and a day for "striking" fixed.

On Saturday, a telegraphic dispatch was received by the General Superintendent of Police from Chicago, asking if the remains of the female whose mutilated body arrived here some days since, packed in a barrel, could be obtained for her friends. It was stated in the dispatch that the body was shipped at Chicago for this City, but the telegram did not state the name of the deceased, nor the cause of her death. A dispatch was sent back, announcing that the body could be obtained on proper application. It is a question whether the dispatch was from the real friends of the deceased.

The funeral of Mrs. Richard Storrs Willis, wife of the Editor of the Musical World, was very largely attended yesterday afternoon, from the Church of the Transfiguration in Twenty-ninth-street. Mrs. Willis' unexpected death occurred after a brief period of illness. She leaves an interesting family, the youngest of whom is a babe but a few days old.

The inquest in the case of young Samuel will be resumed at 11 o'clock this morning, at the Second Ward Station-house. The Police of Brooklyn have been actively engaged since the adjournment of the investigation in trying to ferret out the murderers, and it is probable that the case will be brought to a speedy close.

The steamship Vanderbilt sailed on Saturday, at noon, for Southampton and Havre, with a large number of passengers. The steamship City of Baltimore also sailed at noon for Liverpool, with the U. S. mails.

Scientific Convention.—The Spring meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will open in the Maryland Institute at Baltimore, on Wednesday, April 28. The session will probably continue for a week. The entertainers on this occasion will be the Corporation of the Maryland Institute and the Directors of the Maryland Historical Society. It is understood that a large number of valuable papers are prepared for this meeting; many of the members, residing in remote parts of the country, having found it inconvenient to be present at the Convention of last Summer, held in Montreal. The usual railroad facilities will be extended to the members of the Association.

The Women of America have Purchased Mount Vernon!—We are happy to announce that on the 6th inst., in the presence of two parties, and the counsel of the Association and the proprietor of Mount Vernon, a contract was formally entered into, before a notary, between John A. Washington, Esq., and the Regent of the Association, for the purchase of the Home and Grave of Washington by the Association. The particulars will be given in a few days.—Richmond (Va.) Enquirer, 9th.

SORROWS OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

Graphic Picture of the Desperate Condition of the Administration—Signs of Distress.

From the Washington Union, April 11.

The voting in the House of Representatives on Thursday was but an epitome of the voting of the whole session. The two leading questions of the present Congress are those of Utah and of Kansas. On both these questions did the House vote on Thursday, and on both did the House place itself in opposition to the views of the Administration. On the Kansas policy of the Administration a small minority of the Democratic Party from the North, setting their own views above five-sixths of their party, and those of the Administration, united with the unanimous Black-Republican side of the House, to defeat the most important measure of the Democratic Administration and Party. On the Utah question a like minority of Democrats, from the South, setting up their peculiar views against five-sixths of the Democratic Party, and those of the Democratic Administration, united with the solid Black-Republican side of the House to defeat this measure of the Administration.

In a republican government, all measures must be carried by majorities of votes. The man who votes merely his own arbitrary individual views, votes as a cipher. In republican legislation, no policy can be instituted except by a majority of votes. It is therefore necessary for individuals, under our republican system, to modify their personal views on almost all questions, and to conform them, if they desire to effectuate any measure of policy whatever, to those of the majority with which they act. It would be an arrogance as absurd as unpardonable for each individual to plant himself doggedly upon his own individual opinions, and refuse to support any measure unless the majority would fashion it precisely in accordance with his views. So long as such a temper should prevail among the majority, in numbers, of a legislative body, the minority would have only to concentrate their vote in each balloting, to defeat the majority in every measure proposed.

And this has been precisely the condition of the Democratic Party in the present House of Representatives from the day in which the present Congress convened. The people elected a large majority of Democrats to that House in the same spirit and for the purpose of carrying out the same policy for which they elected Mr. BUCHANAN. They expected that majority to act together, and they expected them to support, in good faith and sincerity, the Administration of Mr BUCHANAN. They could not prescribe the precise details of policy to the Administration and the Congressional majority which they desired to be pursued; but they expected coöperation and unity of action on all questions and measures of policy between them.

On each of the two leading measures of the present session of Congress, that expectation has, so far, been disappointed. The Administration has been firm in its policy on each of these questions, showing no variableness nor shadow of turning. It has been supported in each of them by five-sixths of the Democratic organization. It has been opposed with blind and undiscriminating hostility by the unanimous Free-Soil Party; and has been successfully opposed by that party, through the accession of strength which its compact organization has received from some twenty odd Democrats; in one case from the North—in the other, from the South. On each question the twenty odd have set up their individual opinions against the Administration and their party, and defiantly proclaimed to them, unless you abandon your own views and policy and adopt ours, we will defeat you by coalescing with the Black-Republican organization. Indeed, this is the spectacle that has been presented to the country on every question that has arisen, from the beginning of the session, by the proceedings of the House of Representatives—a House which the people elected as democratic, but which has shown itself to be such in no single vote and on no single question. If it be the Kansas question that arises, some Democratic member of the North put himself at the head of the Black-Republican party, reinforced by a small cohort of seceding Democrats from the same section, to defeat the policy of the Democratic Party and Administration. If it be a financial question, some one of a half-dozen southern Democratic members, afflicted with a weak vanity for figuring as watch-dogs of the Treasury, and aspiring after Cerberine fame, who hang abuot the spiggots of the public cider-barrel, giving violent symptoms of rabies at every superfluous drop that falls from them, regardless of what happens at the bung—we say some one of half a dozen southern members of this cast of ambition, puts himself at the head of the compact Black-Republican Party, reinforced by a small cohort of Southern Democrats, to prevent the passage of this measure of the Democratic majority and of the Administration. If these impracticables (the Black Republicans know them as practicables) are questioned by their friends as to what they can possibly mean by such a course of proceeding, and how they can possibly reconcile their conduct with a sincere and generous loyalty to the Democratic cause, they turn off the interrogation with a pooh-pooh, "We are as good Democrats as ever; we only want to defeat the Administration." Though the Administration are supported on every question by five-sixths of the party in Congress, and by a still larger portion of the people of the country, and though every defeat of the Administration is a worse defeat of the Democratic Party, these men still have the audacity to insult the popular intelligence by attempting to put off this bald piece of sophistry upon it as a mere blow at the Administration.

One or the other squad of them takes the lead of the Black-Republican Party on every measure that arises; they effect the defeat of the measure by uniting their own few votes with the unanimous vote of that party, over-riding the Democratic vote; and they endeavor to excuse this conduct, and to harmonize it with their duty to the Democratic organization, on the pretext that they do not like some of the appointments of the Administration, and want to teach it a lesson on the subject.

We cannot blind ourselves to the effects which this cross fire upon the Democratic organization, first from the North, then from the South, is producing upon it. The Black Republican Party already conduct themselves as if they were masters of the field and in proportion as they are strong and confident, our own friends are despondent and distrustful. The Northern Democrats, who have so nobly stood to the defence of the organization in the trying crisis through which they are fighting, have done so only to see that organization assailed by Southern impracticables the moment any other than the Kansas question arises in the House. It is impossible to calculate the mischief which this course of proceeding must produce, if longer persisted in.

It is idle for the squads of twenty-odd members each, who have gone off and acted with the Black-Republican phalanx, one squad on one question, another on another, but some squad or other on every question that has yet arisen, to suppose, that the Administration and five-sixths of the Democratic organization will change their own policy at the bidding of a handful of men. The only salvation for the Democratic Party is in a firm and unwavering persistence by the Administration, in the policy it has from the first espoused. To yield one jot or tittle to faction, is to commence at once for the Democratic organization the work of disintegration and dissolution.

P. S.—After the foregoing article was written, on yesterday, the House passed the deficiency bill, the chief object of which is to provide for the Utah expedition. We are sorry that there was nothing in the voting on the bill to call for a modification of the foregoing paragraphs. The bill did not pass the House by a majority of Democratic votes. It was passed by the special favor of a few Black-Republican members. Its passage is due to the fact that there were Black-Republicans in the House, of sufficient public spirit and virtue to vote for an urgent measure of public necessity. Such is the condition of affairs, that even a great measure of public necessity and urgency must owe its passage to Black-Republican favor.

Dr. Bayard on Homœopathy.

Dr. BAYARD, the President of the Homœopathic Medical Society of the County of New-York, delivered the annual address before that body and a pretty large promiscuous audience, in the lecture-room of the Historical Society, on Saturday evening last. The difference between the theory he maintained and that which he assailed, was, he said, that between Homœopathy and nature as against Allopathy and Art. Homœopathy rests on the idea that nature never uses matter as a cause possessing powers per se. Allopathy ignores nature and in her place sets up the supremacy of her own art. Allopathy is denounced, he said, because she is ignorant of the nature of disease. She is the offspring of the humoral pathology which can see nothing but humors in the system, which must be expelled. Homœopathy, on the contrary, holds that all disease arises from disturbing causes acting on the vital forces, and nature has established that principle as a law, that vitality must resist these disturbing causes. For this purpose Homœopathy, adopting nature's own method of cure, rouses up resistance little by little, and thus eventually restores the patient's health without exhausting him by the revulsions, reversions and revolutionary processes of Allopathy. Who could hesitate to choose between two systems so totally different? Homœopathy, he asserted, now conquers the masses without an effort, by the sole influence of her superiority. Nothing could much longer impede her universal reign. In time there would not be one who would not be constrained to do her reverence. This was proved by the fact that the municipal authorities had now under consideration the advisability of placing in charge of homœopathic physicians half the public institutions of the City.

The lecture occupied about an hour, was attentively listened to, and loudly applauded at its close.

Passports to Men of Color.

Senator WILSON recently applied at the State Department for a passport for D. J. S. ROCK, a colored citizen of Boston, and received the following reply from the Secretary:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, April 2, 1858.

To the Hon. Henry Wilson, Senate Chamber:

SIR: I have had the honor to receive your note of yesterday with its accompaniments.

In reply, I have to inform you that it is not the practice of the Department to issue any other paper than passports to persons going abroad from this country. A passport being a certificate of citizenship, has never since the foundation of the Government been granted to persons of color. No change in this respect has taken place in consequence of the decision of the Dred Scott case. Returning the inclosure in your letter, I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

LEWIS CASS.

Obituary.

The Hon. JOHN GREIG died at Canandaigua, N. Y., on the 9th inst., aged 77. Mr. GREIG was a member of the Twenty-seventh Congress, and has held various public positions. He was a Scotchman by birth, emigrated to this country in 1799, settled first in New-York and afterwards in Western New-York, where he amassed a large fortune. In 1804 he was admitted to the bar, and has since practiced his profession in Ontario County and elsewhere.

Republican Votes on the Crittenden Amendment—Letter from Hon. E. Wade, of Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, April 3, 1858.

GEO. A. BENEDICT, Esq.—Dear Sir: I observed in the extracts from Washington correspondence, published in the Evening Herald of March 30, that the correspondent of the New-York Courier and Enquirer places my name among those of the Republicans who were against the proposed union of all parties on CRITTENDEN'S amendment to STEPHEN'S Lecompton Constitution bill. I desire to say that the statement is without the shadow of foundation. It was the mere guess of the writer, when the reverse of the statement, as far as I am concerned, is true. Washington correspondents, as a general thing, have mistaken their vocation; and, instead of writing about the living, should betake themselves to writing epitaphs, where their propensities to lying would not be out of place.

From the beginning my own mind was convinced that this union was not only expedient, but right; and that as practical, working men, we could not do otherwise without deeply wounding the cause of liberty and justice, as well as our own characters, as practical statesmen. Others of our friends, equally honest with myself, doubted the expediency of the movement. It was feared that we should compromise our consistency in our opposition to the doctrine of squatter sovereignty. My hostility to that doctrine is not in the least abated, nor in the slightest degree compromised, so far as I can see. That doctrine binds Congress to sanction any rascality which the territorial squatters may embody in their laws; and that liberty and Slavery, horse stealing or polygamy, if embodied in a constitution, republican in form, is binding on Congress. Now, I need not say that neither myself nor my constituents believe in such infernal nonsense, to say of it the softest possible thing. But, when the allied Slave power and Doughface power have, by their efforts to force Slavery upon the people of a Territory against their will, so fallen out among themselves, that there is a moral certainty, that by remitting the question to the people of the territory for their final action, the result would be a Free State, I am not the man who will deny them that right, when the effect of a contrary course is the moral certainty that a Slave State, or a civil war, and probably both, would be the result.

Had there remained a reasonable doubt as to the wishes of the Free-State men of Kansas, I should have declined to vote for the amendment; but there was not. Their Delegate in Congress and Governor ROBINSON, both united in urging the passage of the amendment, assuring us that there was not the shadow of a doubt as to the result of the election provided for in the amendment. Now, it seems to me that, under such circumstances, allegiance to our own principles required us to act as we did.

We were powerless to extricate the people of Kansas from their oppressors, by the direct action of Congress; and hence, to enable them to do this for themselves, by the peaceful remedy of the ballot box, seemed to me to be not only right, but a duty. It was not departing from the spirit of Republican principles; but on the contrary, maintaining it.

That this was so, our enemies themselves bore witness by steadily and persistently opposing us at every step. It would be, therefore, as rational to charge the slave Democracy with having receded from their Squatter Sovereignty humbug, by opposing the Crittenden amendment, as to charge the Republicans with apostacy from their faith in the freedom of the Territories, by voting for it. Execution of the Manheim Murderers.

From the Philadelphia Press, Saturday.

Yesterday the negroes, ALEXANDER ANDERSON and HENRY RICHARDS, convicted of the murder of Mrs. GARBER and Mrs. REAM, expiated their crime on the gallows, at Lancaster. The prisoners, at an early hour in the morning, were making their final preparations for the awful moment, and were spending their few last minutes with their spiritual advisers.

ANDERSON was a tall, intelligent-looking mulatto, about forty years of age, with long, black curly hair and whiskers, and exhibiting the most contrition of the two for the murder. He wrote a confession of his crime, and a history of his life, which, with the circumstances of the murder, and an account of his execution, is published by H. A ROCKAFIELD, of Lancaster, for the benefit of ANDERSON'S wife and children. The volume is illustrated with portraits of RICHARDS and ANDERSON.

RICHARDS was younger than ANDERSON, smooth-faced, short and stout. He was also blacker than his companion. He told different and contradictory stories about his connection with the murder, and generally endeavoring to fasten the bloody deed on ANDERSON. It was only after long and tedious endeavors on the part of his clerical friends that he at last confessed to his share in the horrid deed.

The morbid curiosity to see the execution was intense. No houses within the vicinity of the jail were high enough to overlook the walls, but some Yankees had erected a platform on two or three treetops, capable of accommodating some hundreds of spectators. The stand was rented out to curious individuals at a dollar a head, and, long before the hour of execution, was crowded to excess by a number of males, and a small number of females! One or two other rickety contrivances were erected, and rented out at exorbitant prices. The yard leading to the main entrance was crowded by a large number of spectators, eagerly pressing through the iron gratings. The night previous to the execution both convicts received the holy communion.

ANDERSON was awake all night, engaged in devotional exercises: but RICHARDS slept a little. In the morning they dressed themselves for their execution, ANDERSON in white pants and plain white shirt, and RICHARDS in white pants, shirt and white roundabout, with white gloves. An affecting scene occurred during the morning, which drew tears from the eyes of many a stern, strong man. This was ANDERSON'S last meeting with his wife and family.

After ANDERSON was notified that his last hour had arrived, he thanked the Sheriff for all his kindness, and after a short interview with Mr. GARBER, Mr. REAM, and his father-in-law, prepared to die. The death-warrant authorized the execution to take place between the hours of 10 and 2 o'clock. The Sheriff was disposed to execute them at 12, and so stated to the prisoners. But they declared their anxiety to pass through the dread ordeal with as little delay as possible, and accordingly fixed the hour at 11, or as soon after as possible. A little previous all the visitors and friends of the condemned withdrew, and their last half hour was spent in close communion with their spiritual advisers. Their demeanor was marked and characteristic. ANDERSON was calm, composed, and resigned. RICHARDS also was calm and resigned.

The final preparations all being made, the prisoners proceeded to the gallows. They ascended the stairs with a firm step, and by direction of the Sheriff knelt down in their respective positions, immediately under the hooks which were to receive the fatal cords. After hymn and prayer by ANDERSON, and the benediction by a clergyman, the cap was adjusted. At twenty-five minutes before 12 the Sheriff pulled the cord attached to the lever, and the platform fell instantly and noiselessly, leaving the victims hanging in mid-air. ANDERSON did not even struggle or perceptibly move. RICHARDS seemed to die harder.

A few minutes after twelve, Dr. HENRY CARPENTER and Dr. BERG, the sheriff's physician, pronounced the convicts dead, and their bodies were lowered in their coffins which were placed in a wagon and drawn to the Poor-House burying ground, followed by four or five hundred persons, including the family of ANDERSON.

Bloody Affray in Kansas—Two Men Killed.

From the Leavenworth Ledger, 3d.

Reliable information reached here yesterday that yesterday that a posse of men who represented themselves to be in search of deserters from the United States army, went to the house of ISAAC DENTON, on the Osage (about one hundred miles South of this city), on the night of the 27th of March last, and, after inquiring if any deserters were concealed within, and receiving a negative answer, insisted on searching the premises. Mr. DENTON arose from his bed and let the posse in, and, without further ceremony, he was shot dead. They next proceeded to the residence of ABRAHAM HEDRICK, and, after making the same inquiry, and receiving the same treatment as at DENTON'S, he was shot dead. They then proceeded to the residence of NEWTON DAVIS, and, forcing an entrance, shot at him while sitting up in bed, one buckshot striking him in the hand, the residue of the charge lodging in the head-board of the bedstead. There was but one of the party recognized; his name is BROCKETT. The neighbors in the vicinity dispatched an express to Lawrence for assistance, which has gone down. These are all the particulars we have, and give them substantially as related to us by a gentleman just from Lawrence, and whose veracity can be relied on. We hope that the Federal authorities of the Territory will take this matter in hand, and, if possible, arrest the guilty parties, in order that they may be properly punished.

Coroners' Inquests.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Coroner GAMBLE held an inquest, yesterday, at the City Hospital, upon the body of GEORGE H. RICHER, a young man who, while in a state of somnambulism, precipitated himself from the third-story window of No. 112 Hudson-street, and died shortly afterward from the injuries received. A verdict was rendered of "Death from a fracture of the skull." The deceased was 25 years of age, and a native of Boston.

INFANTICIDE.—An inquest was held yesterday, at the Fifteenth Ward Station-House, upon the body of a female infant, found under the stoop of No. 124 West Eleventh-street, wrapped up in some rags. The medical evidence showed that the child was born alive, but no clue was obtained to its parentage. Verdict, "Death from exposure, the child having been abandoned by some inhuman being."

DROWNED.—Coroner CONNERY held an inquest yesterday, upon the body of HENRY B. LAWRENCE, a cook, belonging to the schooner John W. Bell, found drowned at the foot of Pier No. 7, East River. He fell into the river while intoxicated. He was 28 years of age, and has left a family residing in Glen Cove. Verdict, "Accidental drowning."

The first lot sold was the lease of the Collins' dock for two years from the 1st of May, for $5,500 a year. Mr. DUDLEY B. FULLER, purchaser of the steamships, bought the lease for $1,150. The rest of the effects, consisting of one hoisting engine, four derricks, two life-boats, a discharging office on wheels, mail wagon, three desks, four baggage-trucks, three chairs, one sofa, two gangway stairs, the Company's interest in a horse and wagon, and other materials were sold to Mr. C N. Commissioner Cholwell's Relatives on the Police.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Justice to JACOB CHOLWELL, Esq, Commissioner of Police for the City of New-York, as well as to myself, causes me, through your journal, to correct the statement made by the Hon. F. B. SPINOLA, State Senator from Kings County, which appears in the issue of this date, as to relatives of said Commissioner receiving pay as policemen, whose names do not appear on the records of the Metropolitan Police Department.

Will you, therefore, do me the favor to publish the annexed affidavit, and oblige, yours,

APRIL, 10, 1858. WM. E. BRUSH.

City and County of New-York, ss.—WILLIAM E. BRUSH, of the City and County of New-York, being duly sworn, says that he is the only brother-in-law of JACOB CHOLWELL, Commissioner of Police, holding a commission as policeman in the Metropolitan District, that he was appointed such policeman in June, 1857, that he was detailed to attend the Court of General Sessions, (Grand Jury,) of the City of New York, and did perform actual duties as such detailed officer, until Jan. 1, 1858, and that he then was placed on the detective force by DANIEL CARPENTER, Esq., Deputy-Superintendent, and continued in active duty as a detective up to March 12, 1858; that at this time he was promoted by the Board of Police Commissioners to the position of Sergeant of the Ninth Precinct, and has ever since, up to the present time, been actually engaged as such Sergeant. Further, that THOMAS, the only brother of the said JACOB CHOLWELL, who has received a commission as policeman, is and has been detailed to the Mayor's office, under Sergeant JAMES N. CROFT, has, from the time of his appointment, been actually engaged in discharging the duties devolving upon him.

WILLIAM E. BRUSH.

Sworn before me this 10th day of April, 1858,

WM. H. STEPHENS, Com. of Deeds.

Brooklyn Items.

The new Board of Aldermen will be composed of 19 members, politically divided as follows: Democrats, 7; Independent Democrats, 4; Americans, 5; Republicans, 3. The Democrats are exerting themselves to secure the coöperation of the Independents but with only partial success. All of them were elected in direct opposition to the regular Democratic nominees—an unpardonable offence with the party. It is generally supposed that a majority of the Board will unite upon Mr. TAYLOR, of the Fourth Ward, for President of the Board. Mr. KALBFLEISCH, of the Eighteenth Ward, will be strenuously urged by a few warm Democratic friends for the same position.

Two boys, named OLIVER FIELD and WILLIAM MCGERKIN, were arrested Saturday by Capt. WOGLOM, of the Fifth Precinct, for attempting to set fire to the Truant Institution at Flatbush. The accused are each about 13 years old, and were inmates of the Institution. The fire was discovered in a wood box in the basement of the building, and during the excitement that followed, the boys made their escape. They were overheard the day before laying plans to set the building on fire.

Mr. PATRICK HOGAN, of the Twelfth Ward, received the largest number of votes cast, Tuesday last, for Alderman. The official returns were intrusted to Policeman GROGAN, and before the City Clerk received them they had been altered so as to elect Mr. BANNON. The Mayor, upon examining the marred returns, was fully convinced that an "impropriety" had been committed.

The inquest on the body of JAMES MCGUIRE, who was found in the water at the foot of Carroll-street, week before last, was concluded Saturday last. Many circumstances led to the belief that he had been murdered, but as nothing definite could be ascertained, the usual verdict of "found drowned" was rendered.

Thirty-four persons on profession of faith and three by letter were received, yesterday, into membership of the Franklin-avenue Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. Mr. GREENLEAF is pastor. The special interest in the congregation remains unabated. The Union Prayer-Meeting is still held daily in the church between 12 and 1 o'clock P. M.

An attempt was made, early Saturday morning last, to burn the row of shanties on Fulton-avenue, opposite Adams-street. The fire was discovered in season to prevent a general conflagration. The buildings, at this point, were sold some time ago, to be removed on the first of May.

The alarm of fire between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening proceeded from a house on North First-street, near Union-avenue. The fire was caused by a defect in the chimney. The alarm caused the firemen to turn out, but their services were not needed.

During the week ending Saturday last, there were 120 deaths in this city, 16 of which were by consumption.

The Spring exhibition of the Brooklyn Horticultural Society will open the present week.

A complimentary concert to Mrs. ELECTA C. PAGE will be given at the Athenæum this evening.

HOBOKEN.—The Charter Election of Hoboken takes place to-morrow. G. W. MORTON heads the Democratic ticket for Mayor, though he refuses to run or serve if elected. An independent ticket, without regard to political parties, has been nominated, with F. B. CARPENTER as candidate for Mayor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD
RICH GLOSSY HAIR,
COMPLETELY PRESERVED
TO THE GREATEST AGE.

And who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching, but would have it removed; or troubled with scrofula, scald head or other eruptions, but would be cured; or with sick head ache, (neuralgia,) but would be cured? It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this—see circular and the following:

ANN ARBOR, Nov. 5, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the thousand and one loudly-trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence County some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin and entirely white, and before exhausting one of your large bottles her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative with the happiest effects; therefore, my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed, and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray (by reason of sickness or age) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have their hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it. Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, Ill., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and, I have no doubt, permanently so.

Judge Welsh to Mr. Ullman on the Masquerade Balls.

Justice WELSH has addressed the following letter to Mr. ULLMAN, which explains itself. What action Mr. ULLMAN will take in the premises remains to be seen.

POLICE COURT, FIRST DISTRICT, HALLS OF JUSTICE,
NEW-YORK, April 10, 1858.

Mr. BERNARD ULLMAN—Sir: Information has revealed to me that it is your intention to give, at the Academy of Music, a series of masquerade balls, to which the public are to be invited on paid tickets of admission, and it therefore becomes my duty, as a Magistrate and Justice of the Peace of this City, to inform you that such assemblages are unlawful, and like all unlawful assemblages that tend to produce a breach of the peace, liable to be suppressed by the public authorities. I acquaint you with this fact, because, as a new sojourner, you may not be aware of it, and it is therefore proper for me to inform you that the act by which public masquerades were decided unlawful has always received the approbation of every member of our community who feels an interest in the morals and welfare of the City. As you announce that you have been prosperous under the protection of the laws, it is a natural presumption that you would not knowingly and willfully attempt to violate any of them in order to increase an already pecuniary success. Experience has proved that public masquerades in large cities are chiefly frequented by vicious and depraved characters of both sexes, and it is for this reason that the citizens of New-York—as liberal as they are in relation to all questions of public amusements—have acquiesced so readily in their suppression. The sight of a person's face is to a certain extent a guarantee of his conduct, and a protection against his designs, and it is seriously felt that the present is not a time to lend disguises to the vicious, and to afford new facilities for the perpetration of crime and escape of the guilty.

With these views I have felt it to be my duty, as one of the magistrates of this City, to notify you of the law and to acquaint you with the moral sentiment of the community on the subject of the public masquerades, and I desire to say in conclusion that I hold it to be of the utmost importance to the strengthening of the hands of the magistracy of this City in the suppression of the low and dangerous assemblages which would be sure to grow out of the public toleration of the masquerades, that they be not received and countenanced at so respectable a house as the Academy. You will find the "Act for the prevention of masquerades" in Davis' "Laws of New-York relative to the City," page 696. Yours, &c.,

JAMES H. WELSH, Police Justice.

Police Intelligence.

GARROTTING AND ROBBERY.—As Thomas Riley, of Troy, was passing through Washington-street at 2 o'clock yesterday morning four men suddenly attacked him, knocked him down, and dragged him into the porter-house of John Decker, No. 154 Washington-street. They robbed him of his wallet, containing $30, and then fled. Mr. Decker saw the robbery, but was unable to detain the thieves. He, however, gave information which led to the arrest of two of them, named Patrick Fitszimmons and Wm. Benson. The accused were taken before Justice CONNOLLY, and locked up for examination. The police are on the look-out for their confederates.

THE RECENT SHOOTING CASE IN WILLIAM-STREET.—John McCarthy, the young man who was shot some two weeks ago, in the dance house No. 19 William-street, by a man named Leroy Roscius, is not expected to live. Coroner CONNERY will take his ante-mortem examination to-day. McCarthy, it will be remembered, remonstrated with Roscius against his abuse of a boy who was peddling apples, when Roscius drew a pistol and shot him in the left side. Roscius was arrested after the affair, and is still held to await the result of the injuries inflicted. McCarthy was a quiet, inoffensive young man. He was a newspaper folder, and the main support of his mother and several sisters.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.—An effort was made Saturday evening, to put into circulation new counterfeit Tens on the Central Bank of Middletown, Conn. One of them was passed in the Thirteenth Ward. Word was sent to the Police head-quarters, and thence telegraphed to all the Station houses in the City, thus preventing the further circulation of the counterfeits. The vignette is a horse, with a representation of a lady's head at the right, and three cupids at the left side of the bill. A man, giving his name as Michael Broderick, was arrested on Saturday, charged with attempting to pass a $3 counterfeit bill on the Merchants' Bank, Patterson, at the different stores in Broadway. Catharine Ann Miller and John Williams were arrested, charged with attempting to pass bills of the same bank, at stores in the Bowery and Grand-street. The prisoners were committed for examination. The last named counterfeit is a recent issue, and badly executed.

SELLING VILE BOOKS.—Thomas Ormsby was arrested on Saturday, by Officer Shangle of the Detective Police, charged with selling obscene books. Ormsby, who keeps a book establishment at No. 87 Nassau-street, it is alleged, has been circulating through the country catalogues of obscene books, which he promised to forward to parties sending in orders. The circulars were signed by "Gillen & Co.," and each contained an indecent print. Letters have been written to the General Superintendent of Police from persons in various sections of the country, to whom the circulars had been sent. Justice QUACKENBUSH committed Ormsby in default of bail.

A BOARDING-HOUSE FIGHT.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock Saturday morning a disturbance took place in the basement of No. 345 Greenwich-street, between Michael White and some of his boarders. White was badly beaten and severely cut about the head and face. Dr. Kennedy was called and dressed his wounds. Patrick Kerridon, the principal in the fight, was arrested by the Fifth Ward Police. He was taken before a police magistrate and detained for examination.

Fires.

IN AVENUE A.—At 10½ o'clock Saturday evening a fire occurred in the bakery of WILLIAM KEENAN, No. 4 Avenue A. It was soon extinguished. Damage trifling.

IN VANDEWATER-STREET.—At 6 o'clock yesterday morning a frame stable in the rear of a building in Vandewater-street caught fire. It was put out with a few pails of water.

FALSE ALARMS.—There were two false alarms yesterday afternoon, one at 5½ o'clock, caused by a chimney on fire; and the other at 6 o'clock, caused by a camphene lamp explosion.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—The approval of royalty is only valuable because monarchs are supposed to have received the best advice of the most learned in their respective kingdoms; and for this reason, the adoption of Holloway's Pills and Ointment by all the royal families of Europe is a significant fact.

MONDAY, April 12—A. M.

The Foreign Trade at the Port of New-York for the past week shows an Import of Foreign merchandise, including the Dry Goods table in our last paper, of $2,153,549, as against $3,608,777 the corresponding week last year. The Export of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods for the week amounted to $1,207,899, as against $1,954,426 the corresponding week last year. The Export of Specie (principally in bar Gold for France by steamer Vanderbilt on Saturday) amounted to $256,246, against $468,697 the same week in 1857. The Specie balances in the New-York Sub-Treasury on Saturday afternoon, stood $4,969,128, against $5,448,069 at the close of the previous week. The Bank reserve of last Monday, which averaged $31,530,000, is not expected to show much difference either way on the statement to be made up this afternoon, as the whole Specie movement, as far as registered, was quite light during the intervening week. The individual Deposits in Bank and the balances in account with the Southern and Western banks are nearly all understood to be rather on the increase. The aggregate amount undrawn on the last statement was the largest ever known in this City, being $76,021,989, against $66,884,088 the same time last year; and the probability is the line will exceed eighty millions by Midsummer. The tendency of this movement, in the absence of any considerable export demand for Specie, and the absence, too, of any very large mercantile credits to settle on the other side—as compared with former seasons—is, of course, to easier terms for money, lent on call or on short prime paper; so that competing lenders the past week accepted, in some instances, 4@5 ⅌ cent., where 5@6 ⅌ cent. had been the previous currency. Another influence contributing to this ease, is a reaction to lower terms for Foreign Exchange, which, after attaining 109¼@109½ on London for the mail via Boston on Tuesday last, fell off to 108¾@109 ⅌ cent. for the packet on Saturday, closing flat. The export of Cotton reported from the Southern cities, for the week amounted to the equivalent of $5,000,000 in Exchange. The Bullion Brokers, who are well supplied with bar Gold, ready for shipment, and who had a partial inquiry early in the week, report no demand as yet for the Persia, sailing direct on Wednesday. And before that day another remittance from California—that of March 20—will be fully due.

The summary, by months, of the Custom-House returns of the trade at this port for nine months of the current Treasury year, make the Import entries, exclusive of Specie, from July 1, 1857 to

The following is the course of the Stock Exchange the past week, as compared with the week immediately preceding, and also with the highest rates attained on the previous rise about five weeks ago:

The inclination of the Stock Market was generally upward throughout the week, though the recovery from the recent depression was stoutly resisted by the short sellers. The dealings on Saturday forenoon, after the receipt of the Foreign advices via Halifax, were buoyant and at strong prices throughout the list. A large business was done and very considerable eagerness evinced to make both cash and time contracts for the further rise. After the adjournment of the early session of the Brokers, and at the second Board, prices were less firm, the Bulls giving the market no particular support, and the Bears inclined, of course, to fight the advance by making lower quotations. But at the close the bidding was again spirited, and at ½@1 ⅌ cent. recovery on the afternoon printed list. The fluctuations in New-York Central through the day were from 87 on Friday afternoon to 88 ⅌ cent., large sales in the morning; subsequently to 86½ in the afternoon, and then to 87@87¼ at the close. The advance made on Erie shares was 1½@2 ⅌ cent. from Friday, and this was pretty stiffly maintained. Reading, which sold down early in the week to 42 ⅌ cent, was done as high as 48⅜; then down to 46 ⅌ cent, and again up to 47 ⅌ cent. The sudden recovery in Rock Island shares, noted in Friday's report, was met by a further rise to 76 ⅌ cent, cash, closing 75½@¾ ⅌ cent. Hudson River, from 26¼ early in the week, sold up to 30⅝ on Saturday morning; closing 29¼@⅜ ⅌ cent. On these five stocks the contest was especially marked throughout the week. The first effort, on the low prices of Monday, was to break down two or three parties who, instead of the public, were supposed to be the main support of the Eight per cent Stock of the New-York Central Company. Both money and feeling seemed to be enlisted on the Bear side to produce this result, but under the double mistake of ascribing the real as well as market strength of the stock to the wrong cause, and of underrating, certainly, the skill and perhaps the ability of the leading Bulls, at whom this vigorous dash was made. This movement, and the heavy sales of Reading, Erie and Rock Island down to points which reasonably attracted new buyers, gave peculiar interest to the market, which the very magnitude of the short lines, ventured in all these stocks without accomplishing the ruin or surrender of the other party, contributed to make the recovery as rapid when it did come, as it was previously sure to follow a depression so palpably artificial. The points made on Saturday, as against the close of the previous week are, to all present appearances, (justified by the increasing ease and cheapness of money and the news from Europe,) but the turning point for a new rise which may possibly soon be carried, on most of the list, above the top rates in March. That outside parties who take an interest in the fluctuations of the Stock Exchange may judge of the probabilities of this course of the market, we have placed, as above, the landmarks of the past six weeks—eventful ones certainly in the ups and downs of share values, in a season almost wholly undisturbed by extraneous influences, political or financial.

Mr. J. VAN SCHAICK, of the Stock Exchange, has associated in the Stock Commission business with Mr. C. A. DE FOREST, Jr., late with the Metropolitan Bank, the new firm to be VAN SCHAICK & DE FOREST. See card in advertising columns.

There was much satisfaction expressed on the Stock Exchange on Saturday afternoon, especially by the commission brokers, on the news from Albany that the Senate had concurred in passing the bill from the Assembly to legalize all stock contracts. This has long been held, by most of the old brokers in Wall-street, to be the true remedy against reckless stock speculation, besides fixing just responsibility on all who engage in the business, either as principals or agents.

A morning paper states that the representatives of fifteen thousand shares of the Michigan Southern stock have already requested Mr. EDWIN C. LITCHFIELD to return to the Direction, by suffering his name to be placed on the ticket for the new Board to be elected at Toledo on the 28th inst. This is confirmatory of the change of sentiment in regard to the management of the Company, past and present, to which we referred a few days ago.
